

Dyslexia Awareness Month

In honor of Dyslexia Awareness Month, Lackland ISD is following in the spirit of the International Dyslexia Association. On October 7th, 2021 we will be wearing red to bring awareness to dyslexia and all of our students and families who are impacted by dyslexia. As we know, with support and proven methods of instruction for students with dyslexia, there are no limits to what our students can achieve!

Wear Red !

Although Dyslexia Awareness Month is typically associated with grey, this year we are bringing awareness to dyslexia by wearing red. Lackland ISD will show our support by wearing red on October 7th, 2021. The dreaded red, which we've all seen throughout our education. The red marker was used to highlight the mistakes with our work is all too familiar for dyslexics around the world. Dyslexia groups have chosen red in order to take back its meaning and globally promote dyslexia awareness in a fun and positive way.
