

Work Opportunity – For immediate hire

We are looking for new team members for our shipping department and warehouse.

Our company provides support for a New York Times Best Selling Author and Corporate Speaker here in Orange Beach, AL in our office located at The Wharf.

This work experience will include moving cases of books in and out of our office. We receive large quantities of books from our publisher and then we prepare them and ship them to our customers.

Team Member must be able to lift 50 pounds. At times, you will have up to 50 cases to relocate from a delivery to our warehouse.

Using our shipping software, you will print new order packing list, pull merchandise from stock, prepare package for USPS or UPS, print labels, and ship orders. This is a critical step in communicating with our customers and a very important role on our team.

Part time to full time hours available.
