What is Communities In Schools?

Communities in Schools (CIS) is the nation's largest and most effective organization dedicated to keeping kids in school and helping them succeed in life.

We are the only organization proven to both decrease dropout rates and increase graduation rates. We work in partnership with schools, community partners and families to surround students with a caring network of support, giving them a safe place to learn and grow!

What is a CIS Site Coordinator?

My job as a Site Coordinator is to be an advocate for the students and to be a caring adult that they can trust on campus. I will meet with teachers, counselors, and parents to identify the students with the greatest needs and create a plan that is tailored to each student. I will meet with students in one-on-one and/or group settings to help them with things such as positive decision making, homework assistance, hygiene, school supplies, clothing, etc. Because CIS is non-profit, we accept donations of all sorts to help provide resources to our students.

By meeting our student's needs, they can stay focused on their education, bringing positive changes to their academics, behavior, and attendance.
