Superintendent's Message

“

"Parents, your input and partnership are vital in the education process, even when there are differences. Please know we want to hear from you, but we expect the privilege and interactions to be respectful, as we work together for our children."

- Superintendent Jeff Wallace

COVID Update

DCS COVID DASHBOARD

Please continue to check out our COVID Dashboard for weekly updates. Also, please note that the StrongSchools NC Toolkit was updated last week, to include a revision to quarantine requirements.

IMPORTANT:

While many parts of the toolkit use the language of "SHOULD", per state and local health departments, quarantine procedures are "REQUIRED" and MUST be followed as written. Failure to follow quarantine procedures as they are set forth is unlawful.

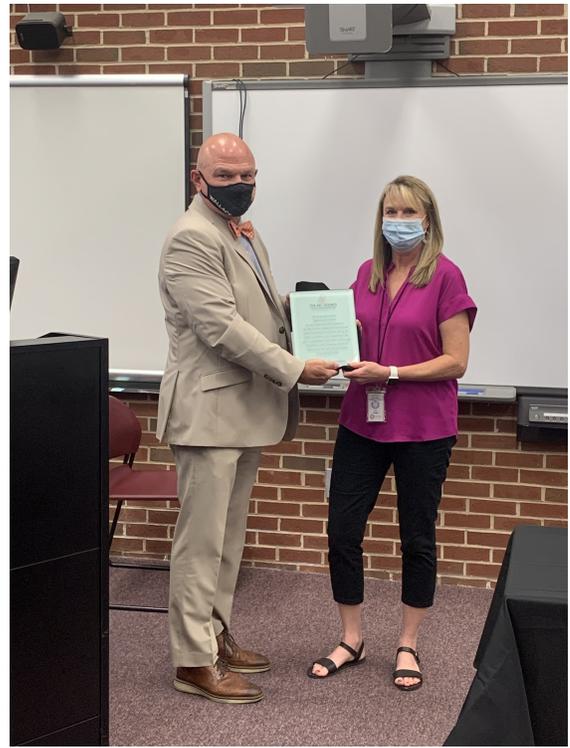

With the changes this week, adults who are exposed while wearing a mask with a child wearing a mask will no longer be required to quarantine. This is great news for teachers and students, and helps us maintain a more consistent learning environment.

Curriculum Reminder

This statement was released May 18, 2021:

The Social Studies standards have changed in NC, and were updated as the state's effort to promote engagement, discussion and knowledge of historical facts. While curriculum and instructional resources differ among districts, all NC schools follow the same state standards set by the State Board of Education. Davie County Schools will provide a curriculum that is inclusive rather than divisive, and facts versus opinion. We want students to think for themselves and know that regardless of what is being taught about events, dates, people and ideas of the past, that does not define who we are today or dictate our future.

By providing resources that contain multiple perspectives, we are teaching children to form their own viewpoints based on their values. We will not adopt materials that misrepresent our history or define one's worth based on race or culture. Our vision statement affirms our commitment to value, respect, and challenge each individual, and that is what we will continue to do.

Much thought and discussion will go into the planning of our curriculum to meet both the state standards and the needs of all children, while hearing ideas and respecting the values of our parents and community. Davie County Schools is committed to providing a balanced curriculum, while meeting the state standards.
