Communication

In the Combo Camp, we believe communication is the key to a successful year! Behavior Calendar slides, email, phone, and our weekly digital newsletter are our primary means of making sure parents are always connected to our classroom. For your convenience, our "Camp News" weekly newsletter, includes your child's weekly homework task and important classroom / school reminders. "Camp News" is updated each Monday and is available in our google and oncourse classrooms, and our teacher websites in oncourse. classroom every Monday.

Homework Policy

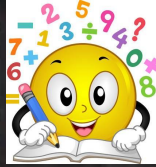

Daily homework assignments can be found on the weekly newsletter. To gain the maximum benefit of the homework review process, students are asked to complete each task as instructed and should avoid working ahead of the assigned nightly schedule. Homework should be kept at home and those skills should be reinforced at home with the parent/guardian. In addition to this homework, individual in- class tasks that remain incomplete may be sent home as "homework" to be completed and returned the following day.

Graded Papers

Your child's current grades are available online through the TPSB Oncourse portal. Grades are updated weekly and can be reviewed online at your convenience. Paper copies of graded papers and test will not be sent home, however parents are invited to review graded papers during scheduled conferences to address any concerns.

Building Positive Behaviors

Behavior Management

Respecting yourself, others, and our environment are our three main expectations. Students are rewarded throughout the year for meeting and exceeding these expectations through our school and classroom PBIS program. Parents can help keep students motivated by inquiring about their PBIS point status regularly. To help keep you aware of your child's classroom behavior, an online behavior calendar is shared with you daily through google. Please click here for more details about our behavior calendar procedures and our in-class PBIS reward system.
