Mr. Cook-

Your initial request was very broad; we are only able to respond with an overview of the guidance and materials provided to schools and instructors. Please understand that instruction is dynamic. Educators may investigate strategies, approaches, methods, materials or collaborations to engage and address student needs.

On July 2nd you requested the summer reading lists which are attached to this e-mail. Most of the elementary and middle schools partnered with the Beaufort County Library's Summer Reading Program and did not send out individual lists from their schools. Examples of information schools sent home to families or posted on social media are included.

Instructional Services shared the SC Association of School Librarians 2021-22 Children's Book Award Nominees with schools and some of these books are referenced in the attached reading lists.

Good evening. Thanks so much for sending this information. You failed to provide me with the information requested under the statute.

There is information missing based on the keywords. Please review the keywords previously provided. The response for the request was due June 25.

Also I don't see any summer reading lists for any of the schools. I requested that.

I also requested a complete list of all applications and web-based learning on student devices. I don't see a list for that either.

Thank you.
