HOMEROOM PARENT

So what does a Homeroom Parent do for their class?

Homeroom Parents duties include:

- ★ Working with the teacher to organize class parties during the year (at this time parents are not allowed in the building; you would be responsible for providing supplies to the teacher only. Subject to change.)
- ★ attending PTO meetings and sharing important information with the teacher and other parents (you may take turns attending the PTO meetings, but at least one Homeroom Parent from each classroom should attend each meeting or find an alternate to attend from the class)
- ★ collecting class fund monies
- ★ communicating with the teacher
- ★ sharing information with your class about class activities and any additional messages from the PTO

How many Homeroom Parents are needed?

Each class can have up to 3 Homeroom Parents - we'll hold a lottery for those classrooms where we have more than 3 volunteers to randomly select the homeroom parents.

I have multiple kids at BGS - can I be a Homeroom Parent for all of them?

If you have more than one child in the school, you may submit your name for each class. However, you will only be allowed to be Classroom Parent for one of the classrooms. You can be listed as a "helper" for the other(s) if space allows.

Do I need to be a Stay-At-Home Parent to volunteer for this?

Absolutely NOT! We have volunteers of all kinds - while some are home full time, many work full or part time. So long as you can commit to helping with the plans laid out by your Homeroom Parent team, we can make it work! Once Homeroom Parents are selected, you can work with your team to divide responsibilities and play to each other's strengths and availability.

When would I start?

We'll select Homeroom Parents via lottery, if needed, following the info session & PTO meeting and announce shortly thereafter.
