

HOMESTAY PROGRAM

Share American Culture

Are you interested in opening your lives and sharing American culture with a student from another part of the world?

Kennedy Catholic is looking for host families for our international students. International students are excited to practice their English and share their culture and traditions with their homestay family.

Basic host family requirements include:

- Curiosity and excitement for having an international student live as part of your family
- A private or semi-private room with bed, linens, desk, chair, lamp, dresser, closet, and internet access
- Three well-balanced meals per day
- All adults living in the home complete a background check and Safe Environment class

Our homestay program offers a generous financial stipend

Note from Kennedy Catholic homestay student, Suan

I miss my family and friends and Korean food, but I also love the food that is provided by my homestay! The best part of my current homestay is my host mom's food. I really like what she prepares for every meal. Since I lived with another family last year, I have been able to try a variety of American foods and experience many different holidays and learn more about American culture. Treasure your family time at home, but don't hesitate to study in the U.S. because you can experience lots of different things.
