Dear North Mianus Families and Staff:

I know each and every family is looking forward to the day when the entire North Mianus community is under one roof again, and that day is inching closer and closer on the calendar.

While there is more work to be done, our facilities department and contractors are working almost around the clock for us to reach our goal of returning back to normal by the Holiday Recess.

As we firm-up our plans, we would like for you to know that we will be scheduling the moving company shortly with the hope of getting essential equipment (desks, chairs, etc.) back to North Mianus from the Stamford campus over the course of a weekend. We will do our best to keep you updated, but we are considering having an early dismissal on a Friday in December and a delayed opening the following Monday to give the workers ample time to set up our classrooms.

Additionally, before students in grades 3-5 can be moved back, we need to get our first grade students settled back into their classrooms from their borrowed space in the third grade area. The move back is a huge task, but we are up to the challenge.

On behalf of our entire team at the GPS Central Office, I want to thank all of our families for their understanding and patience during this time.

While we always try to let our teams know how grateful we are for their leadership, we want to share with you just how lucky we feel to have Principal Schmidt and Assistant Principal Ramirez in place. Both of them have led their entire staff at both campuses, continuing to demonstrate teamwork at the highest level.

Dr. Toni Jones
Superintendent of Schools
