

Yr11 Mock Examinations January 2022

Please see below for the Year 11 Spring Mock Examination timetable which starts on Wednesday 12th January. For most of the sessions, the entire cohort will be sitting papers based on the subject they study within a particular option block. However, where students do not have a paper within a particular option block, for example, the morning of Wednesday 19th when the students not studying Geography in Option A do not have a paper, they would attend their normal lessons.

Students with a reduced timetable who do not study a course within a particular option block will have supervised revision for those sessions on the mornings of 14th, 17th and 19th.

If a student misses a paper, the Subject Teacher should arrange a suitable time to re-sit the paper so that mock results are reported for all students. No provision will be made for this centrally given the amount of time already dedicated to mock examinations throughout the year.
