

WHERE ARE THEY NOW???

Dr. Allison Goodlett

Dr. Allison (Houck) Goodlett graduated from Rabun County High School with the class of 1991. Immediately upon graduating she enrolled at Georgia Southern University. She graduated from Georgia Southern University in 1994. Allison then decided to attend medical school at the Mercer School of Medicine in Macon, Ga. She graduated from the Mercer School of Medicine in 1999.

After graduating with her Doctoral Degree from Mercer, Allison began a Pediatric Residency with the Palmetto Health Alliance in Columbia, SC in association with the University of South Carolina Residency Program. She completed her Residency in 2002. At this time she began working at a private practice as a pediatrician in Cordele, GA with Crisp Regional Pediatrics. After 3 years of practicing in Cordele, Allison got married to her husband and they moved to Stafford, Va, just outside of Washington, DC. She began practicing at Pratt Healthcare in 2005 in Stafford and continues to practice there currently.

Allison notes that her greatest accomplishment is raising her children, a 13 year old boy and a 10 year old boy, while continuing to work and practice pediatric medicine.

She had a few words of wisdom for current students attending Rabun County Schools:

- "Find your dream and go for it! If there is something you want to do, do NOT let anything stand in the way of your dream."
