NEWS and INFORMATION

1. Welcome Back Jaguars!

As you all know from Dr. Reid, we are back in-person in January. With that in mind, we are asking for your help with respect to a couple items.

Masks

As we all know, the omicron variant is present in Washington so we are asking that every North Creek family talk to their teen about being extra vigilant about wearing their mask at school. Please remind students that wearing a mask means having your nose and mouth fully covered at all times except when actively eating or drinking (wearing a mask with your nose out is literally like not wearing a mask at all). Please remind them that talking to friends is not a reason to lower their mask.

Sick Students

Families - if your teen is sick with anything (COVID, the sniffles, a cold, etc.), please, please, please keep them home! If they are sick at school, we have to send them home and they cannot return to school until they have a negative COVID test. Moreover, keeping sick kids at home helps minimize the amount of contact-tracing we have to do at school. Thanks for helping keep North Creek healthy by keeping sick kids at home.

2. Getting to School and Classes On Time

Jags - we have a pretty massive tardy problem at NCHS. Too many students are arriving late to school and late to class. While I do understand the construction on 35th, and that sometimes there is nothing you can do to be on time, once you are at school and out of your car, you can be on time to classes.

In January, we need to make a commitment to being on time to classes. To be clear: this is different from when we were doing on-line school last year. During on-line school, it was understandable that kids might be tardy to Zoom-class due to tech issues, etc. Now that we are in-person again, there really is no excuse for the number of tardy-to-class situations we are having.

Jags - let's get to class on time!

3. Yearbooks On Sale Again!

Yearbooks are available for purchase now through Saturday, January 22. The cost is $50. Books can be ordered online (<https://wa-northshore.intouchreceipting.com>) or in person at the cashier window. If you need to find out if you've ordered one or need your TouchBase login information, email the bookkeeper, Kristy Waligorski, at kwaligorski@nsd.org. Passwords and payments cannot be done over the phone.
