

January 2022

BIBLIO BABBLE

with Mrs. Larson

Happy New Year, Bobcats!

Here are the library topics to kick off 2022!

Nobel Prize Day (rolled over from December)

Nobel Prize Day recognizes the annual award established by Alfred Nobel.

MLK Jr. Day

Martin Luther King, Jr., Day is a federal holiday recognized on the 3rd Monday in January to honor Dr. King's birthday, life, and legacy.

Weather & Objects In The Sky

Several grade levels will be studying weather and objects in the sky.

Mock Caldecott

The Mock Caldecott is an opportunity for BPE students in grades K-2 to read and vote on the picture book they think deserves to win the Caldecott award this year!

Holocaust Remembrance Day

This is an international memorial day on January 27 that commemorates the victims of the Holocaust.

ALA Youth Media Awards

Every year the American Library Association awards the best books (and other media) for children and teens with awards for their contributions to children's literature.

Animal Research Unit

First grade starts their nonfiction unit and animal research project.

Nonfiction

All grade levels are moving into the study of nonfiction text.

klarson@eanesisd.net

