Daily Attendance - All students must be present for daily attendance and attend all synchronous classes (including homeroom) provided they are well enough to do so (e.g. healthy enough to be out of bed and up and about). Regular attendance procedures are in effect. To avoid a call from the school, a parent should email attendance@southeridge.bc.ca if:

- The student missed daily attendance but will be attending all online classes.
- The student will not be attending classes.

Please include the student's first and last name, homeroom, and the reason for missing daily attendance or absence (e.g. illness, appointment, etc.).

Note: all synchronous classes start at the stated time but may end before the stated time, dependent on the context of the learning and age-appropriate expectations for focussed time on screen with teacher(s) and peers.

BIO Break = time away from the screen to move/stretch and tend to personal needs.

Async. Time = independent task completion time (students do not join a Google Meet during this time).

Weekly K-7 Huddles are pre-recorded and accessed in the K-7 Google Classroom.

CORE = academic subjects (Language Arts, Math, Science/Social Studies/PYP Unit of Inquiry).

Small Groups – only students in the small group join the Google Meet. For students not in the small group, this is considered asynchronous task completion time.

Office Hours – the teacher is available by virtual appointment for parents or students who have specific questions about assigned CORE learning. Please email the core subject teacher to schedule a virtual appointment during their office hours. During teacher office hours students can continue working on asynchronous learning activities, as needed.
