Selection Process

Scholarship applications are evaluated by a committee of the Lisle Lions Club Educational Foundation. Our club is committed to the ideals of community service, work ethic and personal growth, and we seek to encourage these qualities in young adults. We emphasize the following factors in evaluating applications:

- * Leadership: Does the applicant exhibit the qualities of good leadership and decision-making such as might be required of a future leader of the community?
- * Academic Potential: We consider grade point average, strength of schedule and progress over the course of the applicant's high school experience.
- * Community Participation: Does the applicant show a desire to give back to the community? We look at not just quantity of activities, but the ultimate contribution of the applicant's involvement.
- * Career Aspirations: What do you see yourself doing after you finish college? What attracts you to this line of work?
- * Financial Need: All other factors remaining equal, we give preference to applicants denoting the greatest financial need.
