

We held a Virtual Baccalaureate and Graduation on Thursday, May 21, 2020. While nothing could compare to the special ceremonies that our community is used to celebrating, we worked diligently to produce an event that celebrated this class of wonderful young men and women in the traditions that we normally would follow. Head of Middle School, Matt Burgy shared, "The Class of 2020 will undoubtedly be a class we will never forget, as they have forged through a challenging time with grace, dignity, and resilience like no other."

“At St. Mark’s, together, we’ve done everything needed for you to be ready. Even during a third trimester “school-from-home” environment, we have continued to do this. Actually, in many ways, we saw you demonstrate how ready you are. You showed you could adapt. You could work through problems when the teacher isn’t right there to help immediately. You could find paths to the answer, become resourceful, and independent. You are ready.”

Yes, the last part of this year has been an uncommon experience, but you are uncommon young men and women. We, your teachers, parents, and school community have watched you grow over time and we’ve seen the step by step progress through the world of being amateurs to becoming pros. We’ve seen the bumps, the scrapes, the falls, the setbacks, all of which are part of learning to be a pro. Because becoming a pro means getting back up. Now, it is your time to make the leap.
