How to use the Digital Access Library Cards issued by the Dubois County Contractual Library.

Logon to the JCDPL website: http://www.jdcpl.lib.in.us/databases.php

This page lists the online databases available. Note that some require you to be onsite at one of the library branches to use their database but that is that company's requirement, not the library's.

Every database is going to have its own way of accessing their database. If you need help accessing a certain database, call the library at (812) 482-2712, ext. 6100.

Select a database you'd like to access. For example, freegal.

Side Note: A screen popped up asking for an email; I selected "Do not show this again" and hit submit and I didn't have to enter an email at all.

Type in your artist, and then select your song.

Click on the three lines/+box, then the "Download Now" option.

Since I did this on a PC, it downloaded into my "Downloads" folder.

It is now yours!! Logout of "freegal" when you are finished. I think you can download 5 per week.

Another example: download a book from OverDrive for Kids. From the library's database page, select "OverDrive For Kids." "Sign In."

Browse and select your book by choosing the book icon in the upper right, and then "Borrow."

You can only check out 5 digital books at a time. Select "Go to Checkouts." You can also change your mind and return it right away from this screen.

IF you have a Kindle, you can select the "Get Kindle Book (from Amazon)" option, select "Read (in your browser)," or "Download (Select one format)"—this will vary by books and their publishers and their agreements with public libraries. Books automatically get checked back in after two weeks unless you renew them online.

For this example, I chose "Read (in your browser)." It literally opened up on my PC. I selected the three lines on the upper left to look at different settings options. To make sure I could access it without Internet, I chose Offline Access. I also bookmarked it in case I wanted to access it from another device.

Enjoy!
