FOREWORD

Every phase of school life has a distinct goal which augments our ultimate vision of glorifying God. The Saga of 1964, in addition to painting a picture of Timothy Christian High School, is our attempt to show the vision of each phase of school life and to tie it in with the vision of our lives—to glorify God.

LEST WE FORGET . . . .

. . . . a President had a vision for all Americans, especially for all American youth— a vision of the youth of today as the leaders of tomorrow. Although on November 22, 1963, President John Fitzgerald Kennedy was assassinated, may his vision be forever established in our lives as a purpose for striving, an ideal to take as our own.

DIRECTION

A prepared lesson, a reassuring smile,

an encouraging comment, a strong hand

direct the student from day to day.

DEAR GRADUATES

I like the motto that is the keyword of your Saga for it speaks to the heart, to the mind and the soul. Our Holland ancestors had real visions—dreams of a place where they could serve their God in freedom. To that end they dared oceans, strange places, and a wilderness to carve out a community of Christian people.

You and I may not have to do as they did, but without their dreams and the courage to make them come true we shall soon perish in the general stream of society. Ours is a rapidly changing culture. Space is yielding to the dreams of scientific effort. Our planet has become physically one world, and we can no longer turn away from the problems of men everywhere.

So we need a new dream—more rightly an old dream made real. We must remember the word of Scripture that God has made of one blood the entire human race. Disaster in Alaska, hunger in China, disease in Africa, the rise of ethnic religions—these we must live with—from these we cannot hide. The great challenge for the Christian world today is to make the Gospel relevant to a world in torment and ferment. This is your challenge, Graduates of Timothy, children of the faith. "Without vision my people perish." The vision of service to men in the name of God you have already received. It now remains for you to make it real.

Sincerely yours,
G. Roderick Youngs

SCHOOL BOARD

The members of the school board are elected by the school society to serve three-year terms. During those many months each individual member of the board becomes intimately acquainted with the problems of operating a Christian school. Though the various committees of the board may meet more often, the entire board meets once a month. In these monthly meetings, the board must make vital decisions; those decisions must possess a rare quality of perfection—they must satisfy both God and man.

The efforts of the members of the school board though often unnoticed are not unrewarded; for these sacrifices, whether small or large, will be evident in the life of every Timothy student.

OFFICE AND MAINTENANCE

Timothy would not be the same without our helpful office worker, Mrs. Kieft, and our hard-working janitor, Mr. Wieringa.

Seated: B. Slager, M. Vander Velde, Mr. Harkema—Advisor, T. Posthumus—President, D. Vander Kamp—Vice President, H. Ottenhoff—Secretary, J. Boeringa—Treasurer.

STUDENT COUNCIL

It is important that the student have a voice in the government of his school. Through his homeroom representatives, the student's voice is heard in Student Council. Once a week this group met to discuss problems and plan activities.

To keep the students informed about the work of this group the minutes of each meeting were read in the homerooms. In the fall Student Council sponsored an all school party which included a bonfire and a hootenanny. Other activities planned were a new Loyalty Day, Work Day, a Skating Party, Homecoming and the Awards Banquet. It also printed a student directory and planned weekly as well as exchange chapels.

Through the enthusiasm of the Student Council, the students' ideas are put into effect. In addition, the student has the opportunity to govern himself and work for the benefit of this school and fellow students.

The job of Student Council President Tom Posthumus varies from presiding over meetings to cleaning up after parties.

TROJANS LEARNING

FRESHMAN CLASSES

There is no study that is not capable of delighting us after a little application to it—A. Pope

Linda De Boer and Barb Roelfsema read their Bible-times newspaper, a project of freshman Bible.

The skills of a good speaker are demonstrated in English class by Jim Vander Kamp.

A Fine Arts atmosphere and a unique room arrangement set the scene for Mr. Harkema's Latin class.

The first year for a Timothy student is a change and a challenge, an excitement and an initiation. It is music appreciation, world history, English, algebra, Bible, and physical education. It can be Latin, German, or general science.

SOPHOMORE CLASSES

Slowly and precisely, Norm Tameling prepares his plate in mechanical drawing.

"Hey, it moved!!"

"I'm not usually squeamish, but . . ."

Typical reactions of students dissecting a fish in biology class are expressed by Joan Laninga and Rog Wiltjer.

A second year student, now familiar with routines, takes his courses in his stride. Besides choices of languages and industrial arts, sophomores become well-informed in Bible, geography, English, geometry, biology and physical education.

"The World's Fair will be right there!" Rog Wiltjer informs Nancy Niemeyer and Jody Sykora.

All experience is an arch to build upon.
—H. Adams

By repeating a problem on the board, Rich Van Dahm and Barb Kooy increase their understanding of geometry.

"Who can tell me what the twenty-fourth amendment contains?" asks Mr. Vander Woude of his American history class.

JUNIOR CLASSES

"And when all the marbles fall to the bottom, they make a probability curve," says Herm Bel as he explains his algebra project to John Stoub and Gretchen Vegter.

Education is the apprenticeship of life.
—Willmot

With extracurricular activities now an important part of achievement, juniors must discipline themselves to continue study in Bible, English, history, and physical education and to explore major fields varying from science to business.

Bruce Mensinga, the victim of a first aid class, is supported by Jerry DeKok.

The small German VI class makes personal instruction from Dr. Rude possible for Nancy Zwart and Phyllis Balzer.

In English class, Lynne Strodman, Con Douma and Ben Essenburg act out a scene from Our Town.

SENIOR CLASSES

Instruction ends in the schoolroom, but education ends only with life.

—F. W. Robertson

THE STORY OF A CHEMISTRY EXPERIMENT:

Dorothy Van Dyke carefully measures an unknown liquid into her glass cylinder.

Even before the chemicals are mixed, Chuck Johnson tries to determine whether the unknown liquid is acidic or basic.

Like a true chemist, Bob Slager carefully mixes the chemicals and observes their reaction.

Completing the final, most important step, Linda Hoekstra and Helen Ottenhoff write their observations and conclusions.

Future white collar girls, soon to launch their business careers, improve their secretarial skills.

Sitting on his favorite perch, Mr. Nawyn leads a race relations discussion in social problems class.

Bible, psychology, English, social problems, and physical education, plus majors in science, math, language or business all aid a senior in the fulfillment of his vision.

*With a small phase of life behind him a graduate can pause
but a moment to look back on his achievements and ahead to further fulfillment.*

CLASS HISTORY

Once upon a time there was a big brown school with cool, dark halls and long, white drinking fountains. It was called Timothy Christian Grade School. Across the street was a playground with the big slides and a sand box. Everything was fun. The girls could play "double dutch" and the boys, baseball. Every day we went to this place to learn to be smart boys and girls. Sweet, softspoken teachers led us by the hand through the basics of education.

Then suddenly, the rosy tint was lifted as we entered the different life of junior high. New responsibilities, new challenges were all around us. For the first time, our class found unity. It was a small organization, but it was a class, doing things like selling candy, sponsoring bake sales, electing class officers. Graduation day came and went with a few regrets, but mostly anticipation for what was to come. One door closed behind us, but several others opened ahead of us.

On a warm breezy day, we as nervous freshmen entered the red brick building on 60th Court and ascended to the second floor. The class of 1964 was born that day. New students joined, but some old classmates were never again seen.

We were so good that year; we tried hard to learn to conform to the proper image of what a student should be.

A small initiation to our class as a unit was our freshman picnic, the election of class offices, and of course our attendance at the annual Awards Banquet.

The second year brought a big change; for the first time we were a real part of the school, contributing as a unit, as a class.

The following year, the new school in Elmhurst was completed; so, with wide eyes we entered as juniors a modern scene of pride and confusion. The excitement, enthusiasm, the spirit of a new Timothy spread through us.

The year seemed short as we for the first time exerted our authority. We remember it as a whirl of car washes, bar-b-ques, our first class play "Teen On A Tangent", being guests of the seniors at the Junior-Senior Picnic, and hosts for the Junior-Senior Banquet—"Evening in Paris", class rings, and the Student Council presidential campaign. It was also a year of intensive studies, chosen majors, and identified objectives.

A summer divided our junior and senior year. As mighty seniors we sponsored more bar-b-ques, car washes, "goofed up" the Junior-Senior Picnic, gave our second play "The Unguided Miss", enjoyed a dress-down day, career day, and ditch day. We missed the senior class trip, but we'll always remember the senior Christmas party, the final Awards Banquet, the beautiful Junior-Senior Banquet, senior night, and our last moments together on Graduation Day, June 12, 1964.

The past twelve years have been the basis for the real history that we are to make as individuals. The beautifully sweet days of "once upon a time" are gone forever. As each of you faces the future and writes your own history we hope that you will "live happily ever after".

OUTSTANDING BOY AND GIRL

TOM POSTHUMUS

Tom was chosen for his leadership of the student body as Student Council president, for his faithful participation on the basketball team, for his continued zeal as a charter member of the tennis team, and for the outstanding example he has set with his scholastic achievement.

HELEN OTTENHOFF

Helen was chosen for her faithful work in Student Council as secretary, for her dependability as literary editor of the Saga, for her enthusiasm as a member of the girls' basketball team, and for her active membership in Choir, Future Teachers Club, Lit Club, and G. A. A.

Without his full realization

ORGANIZATIONS

A CAPPELLA CHOIR

The rehearsal was not exactly organized when President Fred took over, but it was fun.

The voice contains many wonderful qualities. It is able to glorify God by singing praises to His name. It can thrill or sadden. These qualities are multiplied when many voices are put together in musical harmony, forming a choir. Timothy's a cappella choir has glorified God in many performances. The choir sang the joys of Christ's birth in a Christmas Concert. It took part in the Chicagoland Music Festival and had the privilege of singing in the Dutch Day Pageant at the Museum of Science and Industry. It also presented a Palm Sunday and several spring concerts. Included in its performances were concerts in various churches, in chapel, and at graduation. With Mr. Hoekstra as its director, the choir enjoyed a very successful season.

CONCERT BAND

Timothy students are able to explore and develop their musical abilities by joining the concert band, directed by Mr. Knot. Performances while on tour to Grand Rapids or Muskegon, Michigan, as well as the regular home concerts, kept the band busy and provided much enjoyment for members and audiences.

HONOR SOCIETIES

A challenge to all Trojans

Many students deserve recognition for maintaining a B average in all their courses. For this purpose the Honor Society has been organized and medals are presented at the Awards Banquet each spring. Seniors who have remained in the Society for all four years graduate with honorary gold tassels.

There are two divisions of the Honor Society; the juniors and seniors compose the Senior Honor Society, and the sophomores, the Junior Honor Society.

These students should be commended for their fine work. Many of them were also active members of band, choir, and other organizations; others participated in sports. Yet they were able to do all the work needed to maintain a B average and remain members of the Honor Society.

TRUMPET STAFF

A Voice Sounding The News

F. Baker—Co-editor, E. Stoub—Business manager,
 Mr. Hoekstra—Advisor, L. Bradford—Assistant editor,
 G. Vande Werken—Co-editor.

The voice of a student sounds. It speaks in humor, it expresses an opinion, it discusses a major problem of everyday school life.

The sound which is created by the editors and the reporters of the Timothy Trumpet is a reproduction of the pulse of life surging through Timothy. The reporters track down the facts. The editors organize and create. The entire staff, headed by the business manager, sells ads which give financial support.

The voice may speak of news; it may put events into written history; but whatever the sound produced, it is of interest to the student body—for the "Voice" is that of the students.

Miss Bean, Sponsor, Dorothy Van Dyke, Co-Editor, Bette Wynberg, Co-Editor.

SAGA STAFF

HOURS SPENT AND THOUGHTS CREATED

How many hours spent, how many thoughts created, merely to be forgotten?

Last spring editorial positions of the '64 Saga staff were filled by potential seniors. Summer found the editors thinking about a theme for their master character sketch.

With the new term on hand, the Saga staff moved into operation W-O-R-K.

W—is for the worries—about the plans envisioned and the expense involved. The business staff sold ads and kept the books balanced. Each staff had its share of anxiety as it worked to beat deadlines.

O—is for the organization achieved by the team work of the co-editors, heads-of-staff, and sponsors.

R—is for the running about, done mostly by the photography staff as they hurried in and out of classrooms, through the halls, to each school activity, then back to the darkroom.

K—is for the "kids" this book is for and about.

For them we have tried to capture a vision. For them we have spent hours and created thoughts.

Membership in the Mixed Chorus, which is under the direction of Mr. Hoekstra, is open to all Trojans who find pleasure in singing. This year something new was tried. Four days a week sectionals were held and on Friday the entire group met. Everyone enjoyed the fine music which the club provided for several of our chapel services and concerts.

G.A.A. BOARD

"To provide fellowship and activity for sports minded girls" is the purpose of the Girls' Athletic Association. Twelve representatives make up the board which organizes projects and activities. The first project was the selling of red and white pom poms at home basketball games. Two social events planned by the girls were the traditional Mother-Daughter Tea and a novel Little Girl Party. Bringing back memories of grade school days, the girls came to the party dressed in costumes; a prize was awarded to the best dressed little lady. To encourage participation in sports, the board also planned intramural bowling and tennis.

TWIRLERS

Standing: J. Boer, R. Garman, R. Jelinek, J. Laninga, C. Jelinek, B. Zielstra.

Kneeling: C. Visser, N. Boersema.

VARSITY BAND

The tune of "Sweet Georgia Brown" repeatedly united the crowd in a spirited rhythm at our home basketball games. This song played by our varsity band accompanied the entrance of the varsity players. Under student director Frank Van Dinther, the thirty-piece band played at all home games and at pep rallies.

Again this year there was an added attraction at our home basketball games. As the band played during half time, the twirlers exhibited their skill with the baton. The eight twirlers worked faithfully at getting precision and coordination in their routines.

ART CLUB

This year the club experimented with three-dimensional art, drew charcoal sketches of still life, and painted with water colors. Members also made posters for special events and displayed their works for the student body. The activities, varying from a field trip to film strips, helped to reveal the vast scope of art to each member. The club, in these ways, enabled them to explore and use their God-given talents.

COMMERCIAL CLUB

Standing: M. Hoffman, M. La Marie, P. Groot, A. Schipma, B. Roelfsema, R. Vroom, V. Wieringa, J. Zeilstra, J. Tazelaar, G. Velzen, G. Dekker, C. Weidenaar.

Not pictured: P. Balzer, B. Meyer, J. Kooi.

Future "white collar" girls are members of the Commercial Club. Under the leadership of Mrs. Mosier, sponsor, the club had many helpful discussions and many interesting activities; the highlight was the annual field trip to the Chicago Continental Bank. The Commercial Club is an important part of Timothy because it familiarizes career-minded girls with the business world.

FUTURE TEACHERS CLUB

"The class will come to order" was a familiar phrase in F.T.C. It signaled the start of a practice teaching session. These sessions provided members with opportunities both to observe and to gain experience through actual teaching. Discussions, movies, and a field trip also yielded valuable information and ideas for each member. Through these varied techniques the opportunities to learn about this profession were explored by those students interested in a teaching career.

Back row standing: C. Schwandt, S. Heerd, N. Zwart, J. Dryfhout, A. Boonstra.

LIT CLUB

To many students there is a magical wonder of discovery in reading a good book. In order to allow these people to express and share their own philosophies, Lit Club was formed. A large membership made necessary the organization of two groups, the Frosh-Soph and the Junior-Senior Lit Clubs. With the aid of refreshments and the encouragement of Mr. Harkema and Mr. Hoekstra, the discussions were kept at a lively pace.

SCIENCE CLUB

"Yes, we want to learn, but we want to have fun, too! That's why there's a Science Club and that's why we're members."

Each chapter of this club is geared to a specific field of study. A student had his choice of such things as looking through a microscope, mixing a solution, working in the darkroom, fixing a projector, or solving a perplexing math problem. The combined group saw movies, heard speakers, and participated in demonstrations.

With the patient and understanding help of the sponsors, the organization moved on rapidly from one project to another—new challenges, new defeats, new victories.

"Yes, we want to learn, but why not have fun while doing so. We have enjoyed looking into our future."

ACTIVITIES

CHAPEL

An important aspect of life at Timothy is our relationship to God. Realizing its importance, a few minutes were set aside each day for classroom or intercom devotions in which God's Word was examined.

In addition to daily devotions, the Student Council Chapel Committee, with Rev. Johnson's assistance, planned many inspiring chapel services. One warm day, chapel services were held outside on the lawn. Another time a special Fine Arts Chapel was held at the new Elmhurst Christian Reformed Church. Exchange chapels with Illiania and Chicago Christian high schools, and class chapels were led by the students. Guest ministers, youth leaders, missionaries to Russia and to Japan, a chalk artist, Christian business men, faculty members and students led the student body as they sought God through His Word.

The Mixed Chorus and A Cappella Choir, besides instrumental, vocal and solo ensembles, added their talents to the worship of God through music.

In spite of crowded conditions and split assemblies, our services added much to our daily walk with God.

Bill Gothard, a guest chalk artist, leads our chapel.

A new experience this year was outdoor chapel with the trumpet trio providing the special music.

The cast lines up at dress rehearsal: P. Roelfsema, L. Evenhouse, B. Kieft, P. Schipma, F. Van Dinther, M. Hoffman, M. Bosman, B. De Haan, M. Bult, B. Van Tholen, S. Meyer.

JUNIOR PLAY

THE GREEN BOUGH

This three act comedy tells the story of a widower with six children who asks a spinster schoolteacher to be his wife. A storm breaks loose from his family as protests are heaped upon him from every side, but the schoolteacher becomes his wife and soon wins everyone's approval.

The play took a lot of hard work on the part of both the cast and the directors. Many rehearsals go into the making of the play; but the rewards are great.

SENIOR PLAY

THE UNGUIDED MISS

When the curtain went down on "The Unguided Miss," the seniors knew that their weeks of hard work had resulted in success. With the guidance of Mr. Nawyn and student director Laurel Groot, the seniors perfected their acting and the characters came alive. The plot showed the problems of a foreign exchange student's adjustment to life with an average American teenager and her family. When the foreigner intruded into the life of the "unguided" American girl, relations became strained and confused; but, of course these problems were overcome, resulting in a very happy ending.

The moments of anticipation were over as the presiding queen, Jane Posthumus, crowned Joan Van Der Velde as homecoming queen for '63-'64. This gesture signified that the student body had chosen Joan to be the official hostess of Timothy. The band played as the queen and her court were escorted to their seats of honor. The coronation took place during half time of the alumni game.

Both the girls' and boys' varsity teams played teams composed of alumni. The varsity boys put up a tough fight but lost their game; however, the varsity girls beat the alumnae in an exciting game.

TROJANS PARTICIPATE

A portrayal of a Trojan's life must include . . .
his enthusiasm for athletics,
his development of hobbies,
his participation in club projects
. . . and much more.

A TROJANS LIFE IS VARIED

Every phase of a Trojan's life, whether it be a quiet walk down the long hall, building a pyramid just for fun, studying, discussing plans for the future, or participating in an athletic event helps in its own small way to make a Trojan a well-rounded individual.

A representative of Trinity college, Mr. Huizenga, discusses future plans with Henrietta Iwema, Dorothy Van Dyke, and Marge Van Reken.

Trojan Norm Tameling leads the chain of runners as he charges up a toboggan slide at the Private School League cross country meet.

Gaiety, sincerity, and concentration were just some of the expressions reflected in the faces of Charles King's audience.

One of the features of the All-School Party was the hootenanny led by Charles King, who taught us choruses and spirituals which still echo in our halls.

SPECIAL EVENTS

An all-school party, an enchanting almost romantic banquet, a stimulating Fine Arts Festival, a carefree senior ditch day, a little girl contest, and a moonlight cruise were some of our memorable moments at Timothy.

Our first place vocalist for the 1964 Fine Arts Festival, Fred Baker, moved his audience as he sang, "If God Left Only You."

Besides heading the planning committee for the Fine Arts Festival, Co-chairman Mary Vander Velde and Mary Velzen prepared special music for the Morning Fine Arts Chapel.

The G. A. A. Little Girl Party was a curious sight as shown by the best dressed attendants, Nancy Teune and Sharon De Young.

*Intramural and interscholastic sports

"It is not what man accomplishes that is important, but what he aspires to do." This was the motto of the boys' varsity basketball team this year. The team, under Coach Prins, fought hard but didn't win many games. They played twenty league games, some of them on opposing school courts and others on at home court, Cicero Stadium. Although of these games the boys won only one, the competition was excitingly close. Our basketball team set a good example of sportsmanship and gave good reason to be proud of Timothy Christian High School.

FROSH-SOPH

Hard fighting, a tight defense, and, most important, teamwork have been the successful secrets of the year's frosh-soph basketball team. In the Private School League our boys took second place, with eleven victories and only three losses. Hopes for a first place trophy were high, but by suffering a defeat in their final game Timothy had to be content with second place for this year.

CHEERLEADERS

Early in the school year cheerleading tryouts were held, and Miss Jaacks, the sponsor, selected six varsity and five frosh-soph cheerleaders. Soon after this, the girls began their practice sessions during activity period.

As fine representatives of Timothy, the girls were loyal and enthusiastic, knowing how much the team depended on the crowd's backing. Throughout the year, both cheerleading squads led the pep rallies held before our important games. Our cheerleaders deserve credit for their efforts in trying to promote school spirit and good sportsmanship at our games.

"Play ball!" the call of the umpire, signaled the start of every game in the Private School League. Competition in the league was rough, but under Coach Prins our boys did their best to meet its challenges by vigorous training and concentration. Baseball at Timothy is becoming more popular each season not only because it is a sport understood and enjoyed by most students, but also because it is now played on our own diamond.

TRACK

The body, the house of the soul and mind, must function well to be a proper home. One of the ways in which Timothy students strive to accomplish this is through sports like track. Four nights a week this spring, the boys worked out under the direction of their coaches. Between April 7 and May 23, fourteen meets were scheduled with other teams of the Private School League.

Through the practices and the meets themselves the students learned the attributes of enthusiasm, loyalty, and fair play. Yes, the body develops, but so must the whole being when such an opportunity as this exists.

CROSS COUNTRY

This sport consists of a grueling two-mile run over hills, across streams, and sometimes even up and down toboggan slides. Out of the six meets participated in this year, the team won three. Many from the team will be with us again next season and are hoping for an even better year with more records to be broken.

The boys' bowling program consisted of four teams, each composed of four members, competing against each other for first place. Each member of the first place team and also the boy with the highest single game received a bowling trophy at the Awards Banquet. The five boys with the highest averages were sent to represent our school in the Private School League meet on March 20.

GOLF

A rather new activity at Timothy is golf, which was organized two years ago. The team consisted of six students who usually practiced individually at their own convenience. Our team competed with those from other schools in the Private School League in the spring tournament.

Standing: G. Vande Werken, B. Lenters, F. Baker, T. Posthumus, J. Van Zwieten, D. Mensink.

Kneeling: H. Bel, R. Vroom.

TENNIS

It was a common thing this spring to see the new tennis courts alive with action after school. In our unpredictable spring weather, the tennis team took advantage of every clear day to get in as many hours of practice as possible. This was the third year that Timothy's team participated in P.S.L. competition and they again did a good job. Tennis balls, rackets and presses now have a permanent place in our athletic equipment room, since as a participation sport "tennis is tops".

BASKETBALL GIRLS' VARSITY

Only two losses are on the varsity record for this year, one of these being to Nazareth Academy in the last game of the Central Amateur Athletic Union Tournament. This loss gave our team second place in the girls' division. Although the defeat caused them to lose the crown which they were defending for the third time, the girls still treated Miss Kingma and themselves to dinner after the game.

Practices were held once a week in a gym, but it was not unusual to see the girls running laps outside. These workouts put the girls in shape and helped them to develop the skills necessary to meet the challenge of other teams. Having three players selected for the A.A.U. tournament all-star team and playing in an exhibition game at Concordia College were two of the honors the girls' varsity team received this year.

GIRLS' FROSH-SOPH

Skill, teamwork and sportsmanship are essential for any team. These qualities were certainly goals for this year's Frosh-Soph team. The girls spent hard hours practicing and were rewarded with three victories. We are proud of our girls and their spirited efforts.

INTRAMURALS

BOYS

Each student at Timothy is given an opportunity to participate in intramurals. Students look forward to them with enthusiasm because they provide opportunity for fun and competition.

This year the activities were directed by the physical education teachers, Miss Jaacks and Mr. Prins.

In the fall, all interested girls signed up for volleyball, forming ten teams. The fall intramural activity for boys was touch football. Students and faculty had an opportunity to see the best of the teams in action at the championship game.

Once again in the spring intramurals began, giving the boys a choice of membership on the softball, bowling, or basketball teams. The spring intramurals for girls were softball and bowling. The tennis matches were open to both boys and girls. All competition except bowling took place during activity period, fifth hour.

Congratulations...

You are graduating at a uniquely significant time in the world's history. All around are new discoveries, inventions, and theories—and your personal achievements depend only on your individual ability and ambition. At this milestone, we hope your path will be well lighted—that you will clearly see each objective—and not be easily discouraged because hard work is the keystone to success.
