

B L A C K
HISTORY MONTH

What is Black History Month

Black History Month is celebrated every February in the United States.

Why do you think there is an entire month dedicated to learning about Black History and the contributions they have made to society?

Answer Here

I think because it is very important.

Black History Month for Kids!

After watching the video in your own words explain what Black History Month is and why it happens?

Answer Here

Black History Month is a time when people celebrate important peoples of African and

Discussion Questions

She made 38 studio albums and 6 live albums. One of her contributions was she wanted to make music. She influenced black history music. I

What contributions has Arthra Franklin made to Music?
 38 studio albums and 6 live albums.

How has she influenced future musicians?
 She influenced Black History and music history.

What do you think about Arethra Franklin as an artist?
 I think that she's probably a really good artist and she made a big influence to the music.

February is Black History Month and 9DW is taking this opportunity to learn about the influences on our cultures that Black Artists have had. This week we learned about Mowtown and the artist that made music there. We looked at Arethra Franklin and her music. We discussed the influence she has had on music artists that are around today and the role her songs played in The Civil Rights music. For the rest of the month each week we will be looking at different aspects of Black Culture and the influence they have on our lives today.