LITERACY FROM A NEW PERSPECTIVE

myPerspectives gives you MORE flexibility; MORE time-saving tools; MORE digital resources; MORE comprehensive writing support; MORE integrated skills instruction; MORE opportunities for students to practice for high-stakes assessments; MORE ways to connect with students; and MORE relevant, diverse, and engaging texts.

RELEVANT & RELATABLE

Texts and media from culturally diverse authors allow students to see themselves in what they are reading and viewing.

ENGAGING THEMATIC UNITS

Students make connections to their own lives as they cultivate their views and voices.

Literary & Informational

MULTIGENRE TEXTS & MEDIA

Poetry, myths, realistic fiction, historical fiction, speeches, graphic novels, interviews, dramas, literary criticism, letters, film, speeches, articles, short stories, and more.

UNIT LEARNING EXPERIENCE

Students become self-directed learners as they move from Whole-Class to Small-Group to Independent Learning. They read and explore different views on the unit theme, listen to the ideas of others, and share their own perspectives.

A Gradual Release Instructional Model guides teachers from instructor to facilitator to advisor and moves students towards independence.

Unit Introduction

Students set goals and develop responsibility for their learning.

The Essential Question pulls the unit together as students read related texts, write about their learning, and discuss their perspectives.

Performance-Based Assessment

Students use the Evidence Log, Word Network, and information learned to complete a culminating unit writing and speaking and listening assignment.

Argument: Essay and Oral Presentation

PROMPT:

Should people in life-or-death situations be held accountable for their actions?

OVERVIEW: WHOLE-CLASS LEARNING

ESSENTIAL QUESTION:

Should we make a home in space?

Some people gaze up at a starry sky and think it is beautiful. Some people look up at the same sky and want to find out who or what is up there. You will work with your whole class to explore the pros and cons of space exploration.

Whole-Class Learning Strategies

Throughout your life, in school, in your community, and in your career, you will continue to learn and work in large-group environments.

Review these strategies and the actions you can take to practice them as you work with your whole class. Add ideas of your own for each category for each step. Get ready to use these strategies during Whole-Class Learning.

Learning Strategies set expectations and guide students as they work as a whole class, collaboratively, or independently. Instruction and activities are designed specifically for each of these learning environments.

WHOLE-CLASS LEARNING

Teachers lead a shared reading experience as they model close reading and provide skills instruction.

OVERVIEW: SMALL-GROUP LEARNING

ESSENTIAL QUESTION:

Should we make a home in space?

Some people think that space exploration is the biggest thrill of all. Others think it is a big waste of time and money. You will read selections that examine different aspects of this subject. Work in a small group to continue your investigation into the concept of space travel.

Small-Group Learning Strategies

Throughout your life, in school, in your community, and in your career, you will continue to learn and work with others.

Look at these strategies and the actions you can take to practice them as you work in teams. Add ideas of your own for each step. Use these strategies during Small-Group Learning.

170 UNIT 2 • A STAR

OVERVIEW: INDEPENDENT LEARNING

ESSENTIAL QUESTION:

Should we make a home in space?

There is much we don't know about the universe. Some people are eager to support further space exploration, whereas others would prefer to devote time and money to improving conditions on our own planet. In this section, you will choose one additional selection about outer space for your final reading experience in this unit. Follow these steps to help you choose.

Look Back Think about the selections you have already read. What more do you want to know about outer space?

Look Ahead Preview the selections by reading the descriptions. Which one seems most interesting and appealing to you?

Look Inside Take a few minutes to scan through the text you chose. Make another selection if this text doesn't meet your needs.

Independent Learning Strategies

Throughout your life, in school, in your community, and in your career, you will need to rely on yourself to learn and work on your own. Review these strategies and the actions you can take to practice them during Independent Learning. Add ideas of your own for each category.

STRATEGY	ACTION PLAN

Take notes	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Record important ideas and information.</li> </ul>

SMALL-GROUP LEARNING

Students collaborate on activities as they work in small groups.

INDEPENDENT LEARNING

Students choose a text to read independently and implement close reading strategies.

Social and Emotional Learning

Build student SEL competencies with built-in activities, strategies, and routines that promote:

- Setting Goals
- Building Relationships
- Responsible Behavior
- Problem Solving
- Making Decisions
- Collaborating
- Self-Motivation
- Reflecting
- Self-Management

LITERACY ROUTINES

With each selection, students engage in activities to develop critical reading, writing, and analysis skills.

Rigorous Questions & Activities Require Students to Dig Deeper

Before Reading

Concept vocabulary is introduced and students develop comprehension strategies to monitor their understanding.

Read

Students build background knowledge and develop Close Reading strategies.

MAKING MEANING

Comparing Text to Media

In this lesson, you will read the short story "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed" and listen to a radio play performance of it. You will then compare the text to the radio play.

About the Author

As a boy, Ray Bradbury (1920–2012) loved magazines, comics, and science fiction stories. He began writing at the age of 12 and went on to become one of the most celebrated writers of science fiction and fantasy. The Martian Chronicles, a collection of Bradbury's stories about Earth's colonization of Mars, was published in 1950 and is considered a classic today.

Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed

Concept Vocabulary

You will encounter the following words as you read the short story. Before reading, note how familiar you are with each word. Then, rank the words in order from most familiar (1) to least familiar (6).

WORD	YOUR RANKING
submerged
forlorn canals immense atmosphere
mosaic

After completing your first read, come back to the concept vocabulary and review your rankings. Mark changes to your rankings as needed.

First Read FICTION

Apply these strategies during your first read. You will have an opportunity to complete the close-read notes after your first read.

STANDARDS

Reading Literature
By the end of the year, read and comprehend literature, including stories, dramas, and poems, in the grades 6–8 text complexity band proficiently, with scaffolding as needed at the high end of the range.

126 UNIT 2 • A STARRY HOME

Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed

Ray Bradbury

BACKGROUND

The astronomer Carl Sagan once wrote, "Mars has become a kind of mythic arena onto which we have projected our earthly hopes and fears." People have always been fascinated by the possibility of alien life on Mars. In this story, author Ray Bradbury does away with hard science, choosing instead to explore the aura of mystery that has always surrounded the Red Planet.

- The rocket metal cooled in the meadow winds. Its lid gave a bulging pop. From its clock interior stepped a man, a woman, and three children. The other passengers whispered away across the Martian meadow, leaving the man alone among his family.
- The man felt his hair flutter and the tissues of his body draw tight as if he were standing at the center of a vacuum. His wife, before him, seemed almost to whirl away in smoke. The children, small needs, might at any instant be blown to all the Martian climes.
- The children looked up at him, as people look to the sun to tell what time of their life it is. His face was cold.
- "What's wrong?" asked his wife.
- "Let's get back on the rocket."
- "Go back to Earth?"
- "Yes! Listen!"

The wind blew as if to flake away their identities. At any moment the Martian air might draw his soul from him, as marrow

Built-In Formative Assessment

Comprehension Check

Complete the following items after you finish your first read.

- What is the story's setting?

What causes the people from Earth to become stranded on Mars?

What change does Harry first notice in the world around him?

- What does the rescue crew find when they arrive on Mars after five years?

- Notebook Write a summary of "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed."

RESEARCH

Research to Clarify Choose at least one unfamiliar detail from the text. Briefly research that detail. In what way does the information you learned shed light on an aspect of the story?

Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed

Ray Bradbury

SHORT-RESPONSE QUESTIONS

DIRECTIONS: Complete the following items after you have read the text.

- (a) Analyze how an author develops a character's point of view in a story.
Reread paragraphs 86–97 of "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed." What is Harry Bittering's point of view of, or way of seeing, the news that rockets can no longer visit Mars? Explain why he has this point of view and how it is developed in this section of the text. Consider both the character's dialogue and inner thoughts.
- (b) Analyze how an author contrasts different characters' points of view in a story.
Reread paragraphs 97–121 of "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed." Describe the other characters' reactions to Harry's plan. What does their reaction reveal about their point of view of, or way of seeing, life on Mars? How is their point of view similar to and different from Harry's? Consider the changes they see in each other and their reactions to them.
- (a) Explain what the text says explicitly.
Reread paragraphs 131–140 of "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed." Then, explain what these paragraphs reveal about how the Bittering family has changed since moving to Mars. Cite at least two examples of evidence from the text to support your response.
- (b) Explain an inference you can draw from the text.
Based on details in paragraphs 131–140, such as Mr. Bittering's use of the word lure, what can you infer is happening to the humans on Mars? Support your inference using both details from the text and your background knowledge.
- (a) Identify a theme and analyze how it develops over the course of the text.
Identify the theme, or central message, of "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed." Use details from the story to explain how the author develops the theme over the course of the story.
- (b) Write a summary of the story.
Write an objective summary of "Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed" that includes main ideas but not personal opinions or judgments. Make sure to include the author and title of the story.

"Eyed" the author uses the following simile: "The sun to tell what time of their life it is." Identify the simile and explain how this comparison helps you understand other examples of figurative language throughout the story.

definition and that a word's connotation is its emotional quality of the simile. Then, think about the emotions evoked by the simile in the text. How does the simile help you understand Harry's feelings about Mars in paragraph 41? How does the simile help you understand Harry's feelings about Mars in paragraph 140? When the narrator says, "A soft in waves of pleasant heat as he lay in the sun?"

as a result, to show the connection between details and the overall mood of the story. Have a member of your group to take notes.

ENGAGE STUDENTS IN THE WRITING PROCESS

Turnitin™ Revision Assistant provides a supportive writing space for students as they outline and brainstorm, write and revise, view revision history, and communicate with their teacher. Revision Assistant Signal Checks provide instant targeted sentence level feedback to encourage and guide students as they write.

The screenshot shows the 'Current Draft' window with four tabs: Genre, Focus, Evidence, and Ideas. The essay title is 'My Essay: The Benefits of Social Media for Life'. The text includes: 'The recent phenomenon of social media offers tremendous value to the world at large. These web-based social sites facilitate large groups of people to exchange ideas, empathize with one another and engage in important topics. The social media help to democratize the world. One does not need technical...'. Below the draft is the 'Revision Assistant' panel with three sections: 'Immediate Feedback' (showing a checklist), 'Automated Scores' (showing scores of 3 and 2), and 'Real-Time Data' (showing a line graph). A red circular callout states: 'Includes "Proofread Mode" which provides feedback on grammar!'. A magnifying glass icon points to a specific sentence in the draft.

Holistic Feedback

Colorful icons show students how well their ideas are getting across.

Targeted Feedback

Highlighted sentences focus students on areas of strength and areas in need of improvement.

TEACHING WITH TRADE BOOKS

UNIT 1: Inside the Nightmare

Integrating Trade Books with myPerspectives

These titles provide students with another perspective on the topic of nightmares and the abuse of fear, teaching upon many of the ideas found within the unit selections.

Depending on your objectives for the unit, as well as your students' needs, you may choose to integrate the trade books into the unit in several ways, including:

- Supplement the unit: Open literature circles and have the students read one of the trade books throughout the course of the unit as a supplement to the selections and activities.
- Substitute for unit selections: If you replace unit selections with a trade book, review the standards taught with those selections. Teacher Resources that provide practice with all standards are available.
- Extend Independent Learning: Extend the unit by replacing independent reading selections with one of these trade books.

Pacing: However you choose to integrate trade books, the Pacing Guide below offers suggestions for aligning the trade books with the unit.

Trade Book Lesson Plans

Trade book lesson plans for The Invisible Man, Frankenstein, and Dracula are available online in myPerspectives.

Unit	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11	12	13	14	15

Suggested Trade Books

The Invisible Man

H. G. Wells

Level: 100-180

A young scientist finds a way to turn himself invisible—but the freedom from consequences drives him mad.

Connection to Essential Question

This classic horror story frightens readers not only with a monster, but with the isolation to reflect on how power could turn people into monsters. The fear of our own actions is a compelling one, offering an insight into the Essential Question: What is the abuse of fear? that is different from most stories.

Frankenstein

Mary Shelley

Level: 100

While considered the first science fiction novel, Frankenstein tells the story of a hubristic quest to create life and then details the terrible consequences.

Connection to Essential Question

Frankenstein finds fear on many axes—the monster's hideous appearance, the doctor's callousness, and the way human selfishness leads to tragedy. Given that the text is now considered a great classic, it can help answer the Essential Question: What is the abuse of fear?

Dracula

Bram Stoker

Level: 180

The classic vampire story tells of how a solicitor and his friends are gradually drawn into a powerful, aristocratic, unnatural scheme.

Connection to Essential Question

Inspired in part by Lord Byron, Dracula focuses on themes of seduction and contamination, the terror of becoming like the thing you oppose. This transformation, both horrifying and compelling to the characters, not only helps readers understand but prevents the Essential Question in action: What is the abuse of fear?

CONTEXTO

Este cuento está incluido en la antología de cuentos cortos para jóvenes Free? Stories About Human Rights, que celebra la Declaración Universal de los Derechos Humanos. Cada uno de los cuentos se enfoca en un artículo de este importante documento de las Naciones Unidas. En este relato, un niño que ha tenido que dejar su hogar en África espera hacer nuevos amigos en Irlanda, donde vive actualmente.

- 1 Era realmente emocionante. Toda la clase iba a ser entrevistada, como si estuvieran en la televisión. De hecho, estaban en la televisión.
- 2 La cámara estaba en posición, al fondo de la clase, en la parte más alta. Daragh era el camarógrafo.
- 3 Francis envidiaba a Daragh. A él le hubiera gustado ser el camarógrafo. Había levantado la mano: "¡Señor! ¡Señor! ¡Señor, yo!", pero Señor había elegido a Daragh.
- 4 No había problema. A Francis, en realidad, no le importaba. Se llevaba bien con Daragh.
- 5 —¿Cuántas —dijo Señor.
- 6 Francis sabía que cuántas significaba "silencio" en irlandés. Sabía, también, algunas otras palabras irlandesas. Buachail quería decir "niño", y leithreas significaba "baño".
- 7 —Estamos listos —dijo Señor—. ¿Quién será nuestra primera estrella?
- 8 Los estudiantes rieron e intercambiaron miradas. Esto iba a ser divertido.
- 9 Una de las niñas, Alicia, era la entrevistadora. Llevaba un vestido negro que había pertenecido a su abuela, y usaba en los ojos una sombra negra que la hacía parpadear. Tenía una tabla sujetapapeles sobre el regazo con las preguntas que iba a hacer.
- 10 —Kevin —dijo Señor—. Serás el primero.

Reading Support

Text Complexity

Text Complexity Rubrics provide quantitative and qualitative information.

Text Complexity Rubric: Dark They Were, and Golden-Eyed
Quantitative Measures
Lexile: 490 Text Length: 4,701 words
Qualitative Measures
Knowledge Demands ① — ② — ③ — ④ — ⑤	Explores sophisticated themes including cultural adaptation, fear of changing identity, and colonization. Story was written in 1949 and has references to atom bomb, Rockefeller, Ford, etc.
Structure ① — ② — ③ — ④ — ⑤	Story is mostly chronological, but plot elements are not revealed immediately. Plot events are intertwined with internal reflection of main character; use of dialogue makes story easy to follow.
Language Conventionality and Clarity ① — ② — ③ — ④ — ⑤	Language does not sound contemporary; mostly short sentences with simple construction, some more complex sentences with descriptive or figurative phrases.
Levels of Meaning/Purpose ① — ② — ③ — ④ — ⑤	Multiple levels of meaning are complex and subtle (plot events as well as commentary on culture, colonization, and changing identity); meaning is revealed as story develops.

DECIDE AND PLAN

English Language Support

Provide English Learners with support for knowledge demands and meaning as they read the selection.

Knowledge Demands Write 1949, the year the story was written, on the board. Then list some of the situations that students will find in the story: space exploration, war and atomic bombs, family adjusting to Mars, people from Earth renaming land. Point out that paragraph 48 lists names that Earth people in the story gave when they came to Mars. Explain that the names (Ford, Roosevelt, etc.) are names of U.S. presidents and other historical figures.

Meaning After reading the story once through, have students reread sections. As a group, write sentences summarizing the events and characters' feelings in each section.

Strategic Support

Provide students with strategic support to ensure that they can successfully read the text.

Knowledge Demands Discuss some of the story themes that are related to the time the story was written (1949). For example, the first atomic bombing occurred in 1945, and WWII had just ended. How might these major events have shaped the story's themes?

Meaning Ask questions to determine if students understand the different levels of meaning. For example, Why can't the family return to Earth? Who renamed the Martian mountains? Then discuss the meaning that is implied. Have students reread paragraphs 43 and 48. Ask How does Bittering feel about Earthmen changing Martian names? (He does not think they should have changed names).

Challenge

Provide students who need to be challenged with ideas for how they can go beyond a simple interpretation of the text.

Text Analysis Ask students to reread paragraphs 43 and 48. Discuss Bittering's thoughts about renaming the Martian landscape. Ask students to describe his opinion about the name change. Then ask why they think the author compares the name changes on Mars to the names American settlers used for Indian territories.

Written Response Ask students to imagine they are a new character in the story—a son or daughter. Have them think about how the character reacts to being on Mars. Ask them to write a short dialogue between the father and this character. They may include narration detailing characters' actions or feelings.

TEACH

Read and Respond

Have the class do their first read of the selection. Then, have the students complete their close read. Finally, work with them on the Making Meaning and Language Development activities.

Decide and Plan

Practical and easy-to-implement differentiation suggestions help you meet students where they are.

IF/THEN
Teaching
Notes Provide Targeted
Action

FORMATIVE ASSESSMENT

Analyze Craft and Structure

- If students are unable to identify similes, then discuss common similes, pointing out the use of like or as, and showing the comparison.
- If students are unable to identify metaphors, then discuss common metaphors, pointing out the absence of like or as, and showing the comparison.

For Reteach and Practice, see Analyze Craft and Structure: Metaphor and Simile (RP).

Formative Assessment notes use practical IF/THEN support to help you respond to students' needs at point of use. Reteach and Practice activities provide additional support and scaffolding.

Personalize for Learning notes provide point-of-use support for ALL learners.

PERSONALIZE FOR LEARNING

Challenge

Dialogue Review paragraphs 81–121 and point out that a good portion of this part of the story is dialogue. Using little narrative, Bradbury advances the story mainly through the words his characters speak. Have students continue this part of the story, writing dialogue that picks up after paragraph 121 and creating several more exchanges between Harry and the men.

Challenge

Speculate Review the changes that are described in paragraphs 61–70. Ask students to speculate on the changes that are occurring. Have them write their own original descriptions of an onion that isn't an onion; a carrot that isn't a carrot; a rose that isn't a rose; a cow that isn't a cow.

Strategic Support

Personification Remind students that personification is the technique of giving human qualities to nonhumans. Point out the following example of personification in paragraph 41: This was the moment Mars had waited for. Now it would eat them. Encourage students to look for more examples of personification as they continue reading. What effect does personification create in the reader?

Strategic Support

Comparison Review paragraphs 158–159. Lead a class discussion about the differences between Harry and Cora at this point in the story. Use these questions to prompt discussion: What is Harry focused on? What is Cora's response? What's the main difference between them? Then have students write a paragraph about what this difference suggests and what might happen regarding Harry and Cora as the story goes on.

EL Notes provide a range of supports including cultural context, background information, and help with specific language challenges, such as slang, puns, and idiomatic language.

PERSONALIZE FOR LEARNING

English Language Support

Words That Sound Alike Point out the word metal in paragraph 143 and explain to students that it means “a substance that is a good conductor of electricity.” Then, point out, pronounce, and define the following words: medal (“a piece of metal often resembling a coin and having a stamped design that is issued to commemorate a person or event or awarded for excellence or achievement”); meddle (“to interest oneself in what is not one's concern”); and mettle (“vigor and strength of spirit or temperament”).

ALL LEVELS

PERSONALIZE FOR LEARNING

English Language Support

Multiple-Meaning Words Explain to students that the word stuff in paragraph 72 has several different meanings. As it's used in this part of the story, it's a noun that means “something consumed or introduced into the body.” As a noun, it can also mean personal property (“I can't keep track of all my stuff.”); a matter to be considered (“The ideas in this book are serious stuff.”); a group or scattering of objects or articles (“Pick up all that stuff on the floor.”); or subject matter (“You really know your stuff.”). Stuff can also be a verb (“Just stuff everything into a box.”).
