CLEVELAND ISD LET’S TALK ABOUT IT!

Cleveland, Texas – Cleveland ISD set in motion the first of several “Let’s Talk About It” events on Monday, February 28, 2022. The well-attended event was developed to give parents, community members, and stakeholders an opportunity to ask questions and share their concerns with district leadership in an informal setting. “The informal setting was intentional,” stated Superintendent McCanless. “We wanted people to feel comfortable asking questions, sharing their comments, and voicing their concerns.”

The majority of the two-way conversation was focused on student safety and transportation. Parents articulated their concerns and many followed up with suggestions. Chief Allen, Director of Transportation Cody Cox, and principals from each school were all in attendance and were able to answer many of the questions. “It was a really positive and impactful meeting. Many of the parents who had concerns also provided great suggestions and even expressed the importance of their own involvement as parents when it comes to student behavior. Working as a team, I am confident we will be able to address their concerns.” Stated McCanless.

Cleveland ISD will host the next “Let’s Talk About It!” meeting on May 19, 2022, at a location to be determined. Cleveland ISD encourages all parents and community members with questions, comments, or concerns to attend one of these events. We want to know what is on your mind. We want to know what you think we are doing right, and where you believe we have opportunities to grow. And most important, we want to make sure your questions are answered.
