HERITAGE SOCIETY

We especially thank the following lifetime friends who have made provisions in their estate plans — bequests, charitable trusts, gifts of life insurance or retirement funds — to support SI's Endowment Fund. Such gifts provide for the long-term welfare of SI and may also provide donors with valuable tax and income benefits during their lifetime. The forethought and generosity of the following is most appreciated.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

The following are scholarships at Saint Ignatius College Preparatory, both fully and partially endowed. A scholarship is fully endowed at $50,000, and those listed below in boldface have met this requirement. A corpus of $12,500 is required to name a scholarship. The proceeds of the endowments are given annually to needy and academically qualified SI students in accordance with the provisions of the scholarship.

Anyone interested in establishing a perpetual memorial or commemorative scholarship should contact the President's Office.

Salute to the Nifty 150s

by Steve Lovette '63, Vice President for Development

IT WAS THE YEAR THAT WAS — AND STILL IS!

Two thousand and five marks SI's 150th birthday — a year highlighted by almost $10 million in new contributions, announcement of the new Mary Ann and Jack Gibbons Music Wing, banner-strewn boulevards, student plays, musicals, games (and a little studying!), capped by a birthday party for the prep attended by almost 7,000 happy party-goers.

At the President's Cabinet Dinner in December, Fr. Tony Sauer will bring our successful $50 million endowment drive to a close and culminate the Sesquicentennial Year with some exciting announcements of things to come. Stay tuned.

We salute our generous benefactors — particularly J.D. McEvoy '27, Ken Atwell '29, Mary Ann and Jack Gibbons '37, Karen and Tom Leonardini '59 and the Lynn Fritz Family '60 — without whose help SI would not be the school it is today. We also salute our wonderful volunteers headed by the now-infamous Sesquicentennial Committee members, or "Nifty 150s" as chair Fred Tocchini '66 has tagged them, for an unmatched year of fun, frivolity and fanfare.

Thanks to each and every one of you who have given so much to the students of SI. Here's to you! Here's to the SI Family!

Luck-Be-A-Lady Luncheon

Sunday, November 6th, 11:00 am

Dear Ignatian Family & Friends,

Come to Vegas this Fall!

Join us as we transform SI's Carlin Commons Pavilion into a glamorous venue for the 36th Annual SI Fashion Show - Viva St. Ignatius!

This fundraiser, presented by the Ignatian Guild-Mothers Serving SI-and Fr. Anthony P. Sauer SJ, supports the SI Scholarship Fund.

To date, no student has been turned away from SI due to lack of funds. The SI Fashion Show helps ensure that this never changes.

If every family that reads this letter bought just 1 raffle ticket, we would raise $1.5 million for the scholarship fund!

Please, join the fun, and attend one of the two fantastic shows!

We thank you for your interest, support and continued generosity!

Warmest regards,

Your 2005 Viva St. Ignatius Co-Chairs

Dr. William Spohn '62 Noted Theologian

Dr. William C. Spohn '62 died peacefully Aug. 3 at Alta Bates Hospital of complications from brain cancer.

Well-known for his work in the fields of scripture and ethics, Roman Catholic moral theology, and American philosophy and theology, Dr. Spohn served on the faculties of the Jesuit School of Theology at Berkeley (1979-1992) and Santa Clara University, where he was director of the Bannan Center for Jesuit Education (1998-2004) and held the Augustin Cardinal Bea chair in theology and Christian ethics.

A riveting teacher and a respected scholar, Dr. Spohn wrote widely on applied ethics, moral theology, and spirituality.

He is the author of Go and Do Likewise: Jesus and Ethics (1999). He served on the boards at Georgetown University and Santa Clara University (1988-1994), as well as the Kaiser Foundation Northern California Institutional Review Board (1998-2004).

He was born in Washington, DC, on June 7, 1944, the second of six children, and was the nephew of longtime SI physics teacher Fr. Richard Spohn, SJ '31. He was raised in San Francisco and graduated from SI before entering the Society of Jesus. After serving in the Jesuit novitiate at Los Gatos, Bill went on to study at Gonzaga University, the University of Chicago and the Jesuit School of Theology at Berkeley.

He loved to read, cook, and swim, interests that brain cancer could not wrest from him.

Bill is survived by his wife of nine years, Martha Ellen Stortz of Oakland, along with his five brothers and sisters: Richard B. Spohn '60 and Katherine Ramage of Berkeley; Michael and Mary Spohn Romo of Tiburon, California; Vincent Martin Spohn '66 and Cecily Jordan of Napa; Tobias and Catherine Wolff of Stanford; and Michael '76 and Carol Spohn of San Francisco.

J.B. Murphy, SI teacher for 50 years, dies at 95

John Bernard Murphy, known affectionately as JB and “Mr. SI” to legions of students for 50 years, died Aug. 18 at the Mercy Care Center in Oakland. He was 95.

Mr. Murphy was born June 25, 1910, in San Francisco and was hired in 1939 to teach at St. Ignatius High School on Stanyan Street and served with the school as it moved to and prospered in the Sunset District.

In his 50-year run with the school, he taught math, coached and served as SI’s third athletic director (from 1953 to 1967).

SI honored him three times — in 1974 by presenting him with the President’s Award, the highest accolade it bestows; in 1973 by creating the JB Murphy Award given to the most inspirational football player; and in 1989 by naming the football field after him.

Mr. Murphy almost didn’t live past his 24th birthday. He entered St. Joseph’s seminary after graduating from St. Paul’s grammar school, but one year from ordination, he learned that he had bleeding ulcers, and his doctor told him he would die within six months.

He left the seminary and spent the next year and half struggling to recover. When he felt strong enough, he decided to work to help his parents last out the Depression. He sought work as a Latin teacher, given his seminary training. But when he started work on Aug. 16, 1939, at SI, he found himself assigned to history and PE classes. Two years later, he was assigned to teach math when a scholastic from Spokane called in sick a day before classes began. In an interview he gave upon his retirement, Mr. Murphy noted that “the principal looked through his faculty, and I was the only one who had four years of high school math. No one on the faculty had college math,” recalled Murphy. “He said, ‘Murphy, you’re teaching five classes of math on Monday at 8:30 a.m.’”

Students soon learned that he was a tough disciplinarian. “I had a volatile temper, but I worked awfully hard when I started teaching to cool it. The very first days I was teaching, one of my students — now a respected lawyer — was making fun of me sotto voce, speaking behind his hand. In those days, the teacher’s desk was on a platform. I pushed my desk off the platform into the arms of this boy. I went down, picked him out of his desk, took him outside and lifted him by his shirt against the lockers. I said, ‘I’m an Irishman and you’re a disturbing little runt. If you do that again, I’ll separate your head from your shoulders.’ Forty-seven years later, he told me that he respected me for what I did.”

His close friend and fellow teacher Frank Corwin tempered this image by noting that “between J.B. and Fr. Tom Reed, our principal at the time, those two knew every family in every parish in San Francisco. J.B. knew everything about each boy at SI, not just the boys in his class. He would know if they had any family problems, such as an alcoholic parent or monetary issues. Because we had no real counselors in those days, J.B. would often go to a student’s home to help a boy with family problems. He put in many 16-hour days doing this.”

He married Edna Ford in 1940 and they had four children, including Chuck Murphy ’61, who has taught math at SI since 1965. Three Murphys made the cover of Company magazine (a national magazine for American Jesuits and friends) when it pictured J.B., Chuck, and J.B.’s grandson Matthew Murphy ’89 when he enrolled at SI. The first coed class also included Matt’s sister, Marielle Murphy ’93, who enrolled the year her grandfather retired.

During the war years, J.B. became a favorite of many of the students. “They hung onto us and their parents in those days,” he noted. “All of the students had tremendous respect for the Jesuits and were continually afraid that they were going to lose the lay teachers they dearly loved to the draft.”

J.B. gained coaching experience with the Young Men’s Institute swimming team (the precursor to the CYO), and he became SI’s third athletic director in 1953. He found himself in contentious meetings with the AAA’s other athletic directors, most of whom were from public schools. “When they pushed him, he would push right back again,” recalled Corwin. “He wasn’t afraid to speak up.”

As an athletic director, he is perhaps most known for never missing a game. For most of those games, he would wear his trademark yellow tie. He began wearing it in the early 1950s when René Herrerias ’44 coached basketball for SI before leaving to coach at UC Berkeley. “We were guests at the tournament of champions at Cal,” said J.B. “Against all odds, our team won every game during the morning and afternoon. At dinner, René ribbed me about my flashy yellow tie that I was wearing. That night we won the championship. After ribbing me all day about the yellow tie, he said, ‘Any game I coach for the rest of my life and your life, I want you to wear that yellow tie.’”

J.B. stayed at SI because, as his son Chuck noted, “there was a real mesh between his philosophy of education and Jesuit philosophy. I’ve heard Jesuits speak of Ignatian values, and it’s obvious to me that they were speaking about the way my father taught.”

Mr. Murphy is predeceased by his wife, Edna Ford Murphy, and he is survived by his sons Jack and Chuck, his daughters Joan Hensley and Trish Wright, eight grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Donations may be made to the JB Murphy Scholarship Fund at SI, 2001 37th Avenue, San Francisco, Calif., 94116.

We've set the date for the FATHERS' CLUB AUCTION

Saturday, March 4, 2006, 1950s Theme

Pictured above is Fr. Pierre Jacobs, SJ, explaining the mysteries of chemistry to students in 1952. When Fr. Jacobs first came to SI, he was told to teach chemistry, a subject that he studied only briefly.

A gifted teacher, he mastered the field by keeping several days ahead of his students. Also pictured are cheerleader George Devine '59 at a 1956 football game and students decked out for their senior prom.

Get your poodle skirts & Block Club sweaters ready for a night of '50s nostalgia and good old Rock 'n' Roll!

Joe Vollert & Fred Tocchini Join SI Development

After 34 years as SI's executive vice president, Fr. Harry V. Carlin, SJ, retired last May. Steve Lovette '63, former vice president for development, assumes Fr. Carlin's position effective fall 2005.

With a number of exciting capital projects coming on line, two new faces join SI development.

Joe Vollert '84, former SI head football coach and mathematics teacher, becomes director of development, and Fred Tocchini '66, member of the Board of Regents and former president and co-owner of Tocchini & Tocchini, becomes director of special projects.

The Development Office, along with the entire SI community, welcomes Joe and Fred to their new roles. A fuller story, including a list of new faculty and administrators, will run in the winter issue.
