By no means is this an exhaustive list — there are simply far too many things that happen on campus during the course of a year. We offer you a few highlights to give a taste of what life is like for our students, teachers, parents and alumni. Enjoy!

A.M.D.G.

From my first day at SI, I have felt very much at home. This has been home for me and a place where I've had the opportunity to meet so many of you who share in the mission and vision of Jesuit education.

This past June, I was invited to attend a meeting of leaders from Jesuit high schools in the U.S. and Latin America who share our vision. (See photo below.) The meeting was held in Santo Domingo in the Dominican Republic. I may not be an enthusiastic traveler to non-English speaking countries, but I found this meeting to be a genuinely graced moment. The issue of language was quickly displaced by a lively exchange of a common commitment to Jesuit education at the secondary level. A shared love for the young people for and with whom we minister was overwhelmingly evident. The language and words were different, but the dedication and experiences were the same as the experience I've had at SI, the school we love.

Following the vision of this larger Jesuit community, SI has enhanced our mission with the establishment of the Father Sauer Academy. This is a program giving young men and women from low-income backgrounds a chance to attend our school. Through the Academy, they will be prepared to take full advantage of all SI has to offer.

Again, as part of the larger Jesuit educational mission, all of us at SI pledge ourselves to be faithful stewards of the Jesuit history and legacy of caring deeply for our students, as we exist for them. We pledge ourselves to discover with them the person God has created them to be.

Being part of the SI community is a gift of being part of a larger mission to change the world for the better by helping young men and women become men and women for and with others.

I feel blessed to share in this mission with you.

Letter from Board President Greg Bonfiglio, S.J.

"A Jesuit school has a governing board which holds the Jesuit and Catholic mission and identity of the school in trust for the Society of Jesus by setting direction, establishing policies and ensuring programs that build and manifest the school's Jesuit and Catholic mission and identity" (Our Way of Proceeding: Standards and Benchmarks for Jesuit Schools in the 21st Century, Standard 4, page 13).

The SI Board of Trustees has begun its second year with the new single-board governance structure. We are 18 women and men, including 14 lay leaders and four Jesuits, and we are looking forward to building on a very successful first year.

To enhance our effectiveness as a deliberative body and focus on our charge to "build and manifest the school's Jesuit and Catholic mission and identity" with greater integrity and purpose, the Board of Trustees had its second annual board retreat. The day's activities and exercises were led by our friend and colleague Jack Peterson of Managing for Mission. (Many will recognize Jack, himself a former Jesuit high school president, as the consultant who facilitated our year-long and community-wide discussions and prayerful deliberations about the structure of SI's governance two years ago that reformulated the Regents and Trustees into a single governing SI Board of Trustees.)

After beginning our day with an extended Ignatian contemplation on Jesus' post-resurrection appearance at the Sea of Tiberius, we reviewed and shared our thoughts on some best practices for boards of trustees. One such concept is what Jack refers to as the "Chain of Care."

Simply described, the chain is anchored by our students, who are the primary focus of our board and school. Those immediately responsible for the care of our students are the faculty and staff, who serve them as mediators of God's love. Their cura personalis empowers the students to grow, to take risks and to inquire what God desires to give the world through their gifts and talents. Part of the teacher's care for our students is to hold them accountable for their actions and choices.

In order for faculty and staff to give their gift of cura personalis, they must receive it from the administration in the form of care and respect. In turn, for the chief administrators to give cura personalis, they must experience that same care and respect from the board in both support and encouragement to be the best they can be in our shared mission.

The fourth link is the Board of Trustees's connection outward to our school's sponsoring entity, the Jesuits West Province of the Society of Jesus. The Jesuits receive support and guidance from the Church, and the Church from the moral authority and inspiration of Jesus Christ. Jesus himself is part of a community of love and support — the Trinity.

As with any chain, this one works only if the links remain strong and each does its part to reinforce the entire chain. For example, an administrator can't exhaust time or energy in direct care for students and have too little left for faculty and staff. The best way our administrators can care for students is to care for their teachers.

The same is true for our Board of Trustees. The best way for the Board to discharge its duties in trust for the Society of Jesus — and ultimately serve our students — is to fulfill its special responsibility to support the school administration and our chief administrator, Eddie Reese, S.J., SI's president.

We have also begun our second year with Fr. Reese. As most will remember, in 2015 we did a nationwide search and found a veteran Jesuit administrator, one who had great successes at schools in California, Australia and Arizona. He is having similar success at SI — we have seen his decisive leadership in action this past year and look forward to what's in store this year and beyond. It has been a delight to work with him. Please join me in thanking our Father President for his bold vision, one rooted in the founder of the Society of Jesus, St. Ignatius of Loyola.

The Board is pleased to report that the school is on firm financial footing and is taking steps to ensure its fiscal health for years to come. Fr. Reese and the Advancement Department are doing this by developing a five-year financial plan and by gradually moving to a full-cost tuition model. Our challenge is to ensure we have the proper resources to provide qualified students with access to SI regardless of their financial status. This is more and more of a challenge in the Bay Area — one of the most expensive places to live in the world where poverty is still a reality.

At the heart of our Jesuit mission is the Church's preferential option for the poor. The Father Sauer Academy — a tuition-free middle school that began August 25 on the SI campus — came about because of bold leadership, and it is a change to the school that will help us better succeed at our mission. For it to succeed, we need to have the resources to do make it work. In short, this sort of venture can only succeed if leadership, structure and finances — the trifecta of a great school — are in place. As Fr. Reese continues to take SI into the new millennium, please know he has our full and unequivocal support.

Finally, thank for your support, for none of our work would be possible without your generosity and trust. You trust us by sending your daughters and sons to SI, and you show us your generosity in so many ways. Because of you, we are able to bring to life the Ignatian hallmark of cura personalis up and down the chain of care, so that students begin to envision a future for themselves where they can shape the world for the greater good of all and the greater glory of God.

THE FATHER HARRY V. CARLIN, S.J., HERITAGE SOCIETY

We especially thank the following lifetime friends who have made provisions in their estate plans—bequests, charitable trusts, gifts of life insurance or retirement funds—to support SI's Endowment Fund. Such gifts provide for the long-term welfare of SI and may also provide donors with valuable tax and income benefits during their lifetime. The forethought and generosity of the following is most appreciated.

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

The following are scholarships at St. Ignatius College Preparatory, both perpetually and partially endowed. All scholarships listed in the first section are perpetually endowed. To meet current tuition needs, a new scholarship can be perpetually endowed at $100,000. A corpus of $25,000 is required to have a partial scholarship. The proceeds of the endowments are given annually to deserving and academically qualified SI students in accordance with the provisions of the scholarship. Anyone interested in establishing a perpetual memorial or commemorative scholarship should contact the Advancement Office.

(All scholarships started prior to July 2006 will be forever recognized as a perpetually endowed scholarship at the prior threshold of $50,000, and as a partial scholarship at the prior threshold of $12,500.)

Multiyear Donor Club

SI is honoring those who have made donations to the school for 10 or more consecutive years.

We are indebted to these men and women for their constant and unflagging support of St. Ignatius College Preparatory and its mission of forming men and women of conscience, competence and compassion.

We thank them and ask all of you to consider making an annual gift so that, one day, you too may join their ranks.

Report from Joe Vollert '84, VP for Advancement

I HAVE A QUESTION FOR YOU: WHAT DO YOU THINK ARE THE MOST IMPORTANT aspects of a Jesuit education?

The Society of Jesus — the Jesuits — has been one of the most successful companies in history since its inception in the mid-16th century. In his book Heroic Leadership, former Jesuit-turned-HP-executive Chris Lowney makes this case convincingly.

Our schools are in an historic and crucial time in our history. We are in the midst of a decades-long transition from primarily Jesuit-led and Jesuit-staffed schools to lay-led and lay-staffed schools, a departure from what has worked for nearly 470 years since Ignatius founded the first Jesuit school in Messina, Italy, in 1548.

As we continue this transition, it is vital that we have a deep understanding and appreciation for what makes a Jesuit school Jesuit and for what has made our Jesuits so successful for so long.

I offer three suggestions:

First, there is something foundational in the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius of Loyola that informs all of their works. Every Jesuit upon entering the order does a 30-day silent retreat called the Spiritual Exercises, guided by a director. The Exercises are an active experience of prayer that connects the retreatant to the person of Jesus through the Gospels. One learns how to discern the movements of the spirit in order to respond courageously to the challenges of our time. These are more than buzzwords, as understanding and undertaking this process of discernment lies at the heart of Jesuit schools.

Secondly, Jesuits are great educators. While they are very well educated, life-long learners, they don't teach a subject matter; instead, they teach students. They have always inculcated themselves wherever they were sent and have a gift for meeting people "where they're at." Our ability to do that with our students today is vital if we are to sow the counter-cultural seeds of the Gospel message.

Finally, the Society of Jesus has shown a great ability to adapt and evolve while adhering to the same core mission. Our own history points to this quite well. In our 162-year history, we have had six campuses, we have transitioned to co-education, and we now have a student body where more than half are students of color and live outside the city. Vital to our survival is our ability to adapt as education evolves, perhaps dramatically in the years to come, while maintaining our core mission.

What do you think? I'd love to hear from you. Write to me at jvollert@siprep.org and let me know your thoughts.

THANK YOU, THANK YOU, THANK YOU!

On behalf of the entire SI community, thank you for a record year of support for SI's mission to educate and form tomorrow's leaders in our Jesuit, Catholic tradition.

We had a record number of parents, alumni, former parents, grandparents and friends support our Annual Fund, our parent club fundraisers and our Compass Campaign with a record total number.

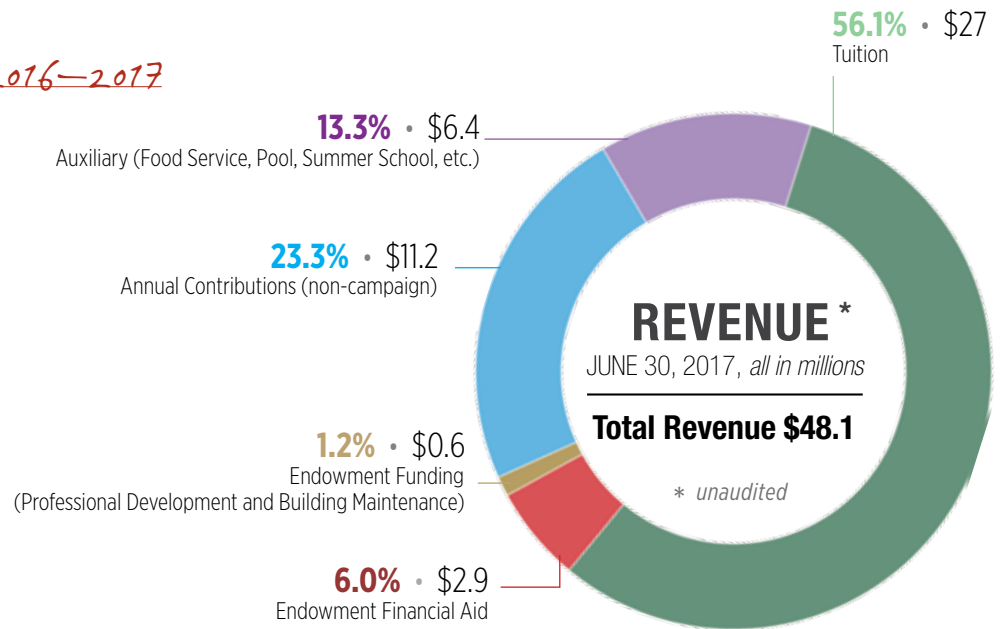

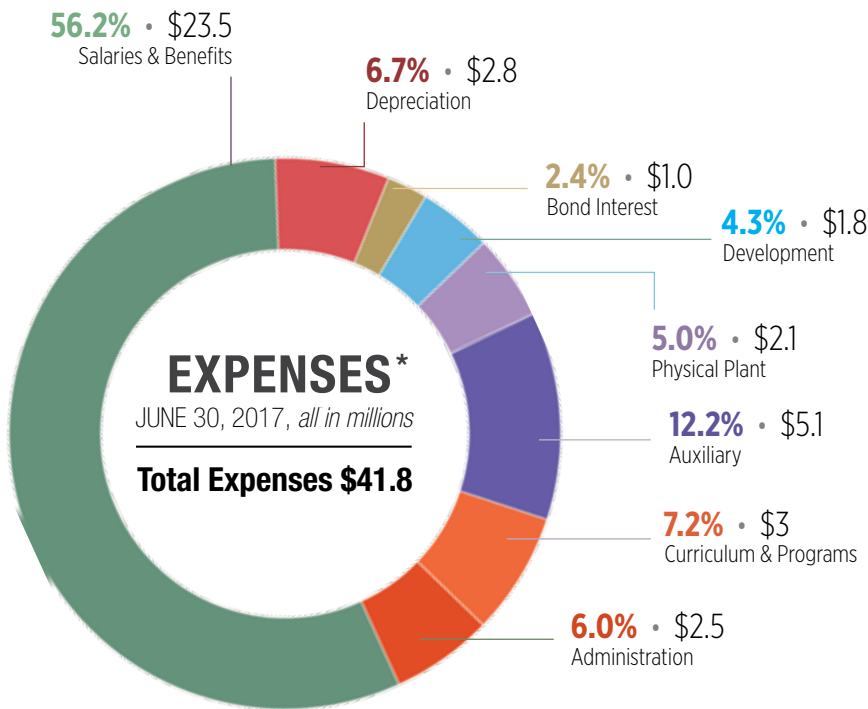

Our direction is clear:

- Support the current school year with unrestricted gifts through our Annual Fund so our teachers and staff have the necessary resources to deliver our mission;
- Support our tuition assistance program and Scholarship Endowment Fund so young Ignatians who could not otherwise attend SI have the ability to do so;
- Support our Compass Campaign to grow our Scholarship Endowment Fund aggressively, to fund and endow the Fr. Sauer Academy and to plan for future renovations and additions to SI's campus in support of Jesuit education in the 21st century.

In this magazine you will see how your generous partnership supports our mission to inspire our young charges to be men and women who respond courageously to the challenges of our time.

A special thank you, thank you, thank you to the Yvonne and Angelo Sangiacomo Family, who highlighted the year with their extraordinary $3 million gift to support the Fr. Sauer Academy.

Revenue & Expenses 2016-2017

Report from Ken Stupi '78, VP for Finance & Administration

I AM PLEASED TO REPORT THAT OUR INCOME FROM TUITION, ENDOWMENT AND DONATIONS MET last year's expenses. That, of course, is one of the key things any non-profit institution ought to do — balance the books so that the organization can live out its mission and vision in a fiscally responsible manner.

SI is on a strong financial footing thanks to our parents' commitment to Jesuit education through their tuition payments and donations. We also thank our alumni and friends whose loyal support provides the backbone of our scholarship program. We have advisers who guide us with our finances and investments, and thanks to them, we have a long-term financial plan keyed on financial sustainability. They have been central to our prudent management of our endowment and investment portfolio.

Dollars and ledgers may seem divorced from the mission of a Jesuit school; however, our budget and endowment are extensions of our mission as they allow us to live out the Jesuit philosophy that calls for a preferential option for the poor. We are committed to providing access to SI — one of the best secondary schools in the state — for qualified students regardless of their ability to pay while attracting and retaining top teachers and maintaining a state-of-the-art facility. These are herculean tasks given where we live, but we are succeeding thanks to you.

Report from Principal Patrick Ruff

CURA PERSONALIS — OR “CARE OF THE PERSON” — IS A HALLMARK OF JESUIT education and calls us to care for each student, to take into account a student’s experiences or circumstances and to support the development of his or her unique gifts and talents in a challenging college prep environment. We don’t simply teach students facts and figures; we also teach students how to learn, how to synthesize ideas and how to make connections.

Cura Personalis means appreciation and respect. We are animated by the desire to affirm the goodness and dignity of each person because God is present and working in all our lives. It means that each person has a sense of belonging and that no one falls through the cracks. Cura Personalis means that when our students start at SI, they immediately become part of our community with adults who will be with them for four years, getting to know them and working with them. Our teachers, coaches, campus ministers and counselors take a personal interest in the intellectual, physical, affective, moral and spiritual development of all our students.

Cura Personalis means empowerment. We want to accompany our students — as they grow into their gifts and realize their limitations — while empowering them to become fully alive. We want to prepare young women and men for the challenges of life; we don’t simply want to teach them but to transform their hearts and minds and to instill passion because the true challenge is to live a life Ad Majorem Dei Gloriam, for the greater glory of God.

Boys' basketball team ventures across the Pacific to compete in Taiwan tournament

The boys' varsity basketball team traveled to Taiwan July 5 to 12 and brought back far more than a 6-2 tournament record. "They returned with experiences that will change their lives forever thanks to their immersion in a new culture," said Varsity Head Coach Rob Marcaletti '96. "They learned to rely on their teammates in new and different ways while being halfway around the world."

He added that "a couple of our players had never been to Lake Tahoe let alone to a country outside the U.S. They were out of their comfort zones as they learned to enjoy a traditional Taiwanese breakfast and figured out how to manage new-found fame with grace and poise. They represented SI well during their Fox Sports interviews and were gracious with throngs of fans who wanted photos, autographs and SI-themed gear."

Marcaletti also brought back with him a new style of fast-paced basketball that he hopes will translate into big wins once league play starts this winter.

"I really want an Asia trip to be an annual event," said Marcaletti, who will return to Taiwan in late September on his own for a coaching exchange. He is already planning to bring his team again in the summer of 2018 for a tour split between Taiwan and Japan and, he hopes, for his coaching staff and players to teach an NBA-sponsored youth basketball camp.

The basketball diplomacy exchange began in 2015 when Song Shan High School, Taiwan's top basketball school, came to Skyline College for a tournament. Skyline's coach, Justin Piergrossi, called Marcaletti in hopes that the Song-Shan team could play SI during an opening in the team's schedule.

"We played them and went ahead 11-2 before their first time out," said Marcaletti. "After that, it was a battle, but we lost by 4. The team's coach, Roman Huang, is like the Bobby Knight of Taiwan. He's an amazing coach and well respected by his coaching peers in all of Asia."

Since that first game, Marcaletti and Ellen Huang, Roman's wife, kept in touch to arrange a rematch in Taiwan. "Each of her invitations was for a game during the school year, and that never worked for us. As a result, she put together a tournament this past July just so we could be included."

That tournament included the Tai-Shan Senior High School and the Neng-Ren Home Economic and Commercial Vocational School, both of New Taipei City; the Kao-Yuan Senior High School of Technology and Commerce of Kaoshiung; the Fukuoaka Daiichi High School of Japan (Japan's best high school team); an

All-Star Under-20 Nike team that included freshmen and sophomores in college; and host Taipei Municipal Song-Shan Senior High School of Taipei City.

Everything but airfare was covered by Fox Sports and an anonymous donor connected to Song-Shan. Also donating funds to defray costs was BiRite Food Service Distributors and the law firm of Phillips, Spallas & Angstadt, where Coach Marcaletti's wife, Elisa (Rhein) Marcaletti '96, is a partner.

Coach Marcaletti also asked his players to work off their $1,000 airfare at various jobs. "I wanted the players to go on this trip without creating a financial burden to their parents or families," said Marcaletti. I also wanted the team to take some ownership of the trip."

Once in Taiwan, the Wildcats faced several challenges, including being immersed in a foreign culture as well as hot and humid weather. They also had to play by FIBA (International Basketball Federation) rules that include a 24-second shot-clock that resets to 14 seconds for a missed shot that hits off the rim. (U.S. rules have a 35-second shot-clock that resets to a full 35 seconds.) "This makes for a very fast game that I want the players to start using during the upcoming season," said Marcaletti.

The boys also found referees unwilling to call fouls on physical play that would typically earn whistles in the U.S. “The WCAL prides itself on toughness and physical play, but we were blown away by the level of physicality in Taiwan,” said Marcaletti. “It was hand-to-hand combat when entering the key.”

The SI squad was also impressed by the level of respect and dedication shown by their opponents, who would line up after each game and bow to the opposing coaches. “These young men practice six hours a day, seven days a week, and show a love and passion for the game that is incredible. For our guys to see how hard the young men from Taiwan and Japan work was pretty special. These players have honor for the game and their opponents and show a tremendous discipline when they play.”

Though SI lost to the Nike Under 20 team, the Wildcats beat the Japan team (which finished 7-1) and triumphed over host Song-Shan 73-71. Ross Klein '19 made the All-Tourney Hustle Team, Darrion Trammell '18 was named one of the top-five players in the tournament, Brandon Beckman '18 scored a tournament high 28 points against Song-Shan, Matt Redmond '18 was a consistent scoring threat and lock-down defender, and Wrenn Robinson '19 had three 18-point games in a row.

The real rewards, however, came after the games, when fans showered adulation on the boys. “Even when we were out at restaurants, we’d see replays of the games on the TVs or watch someone on our team being interviewed by Fox Sports,” said Marcaletti. “People recognized us everywhere we went, including outdoor basketball courts that only open at night due to the heat. Coach Thomas and I took our guys to those ‘night courts’ on the final night of our trip and played pick-up basketball. We ended with a group photo at 2 a.m. with everyone who played that night.”

Fans also waited at the hotel to greet the team and were ecstatic when they received gifts of SI merchandise that Marcaletti brought with him. “People went nuts for that stuff.”

The boys also toured Taiwan’s famous landmarks, including the Chiang Kai-shek Memorial Hall and Taipei 101, which was at one time the tallest building in the world. There, students dined at the famous Din Tai Fung restaurant. The most memorable meal of the trip, however, happened after the tournament ended, when SI, Song-Shan and the team from Japan dined together.

“The boys sat all mixed together and sang happy birthday to Garrett Cason '19 in English, Japanese and Mandarin,” said Marcaletti. “After the meal, our players lined up and bowled to the coaches from Taiwan and Japan. By the end of the night, everyone had dozens of new Instagram friends and followers.”

When Marcaletti returned to Taiwan in September, he sat in on more high school practices and also visited with Coach Charlie Parker, former NBA and USC coach, who now leads the Taiwanese National team. “We ran into him at the Taiwan airport, and he was gracious enough to invite me and our coaching staff to sit in on a scrimmage to learn more about the fast transition game they play.”

Marcaletti hopes his team continues this international exchange each year. “My mother was in the airline business, and I’ve had the luxury of traveling and benefiting from the experience of a variety of cultures. Now our players have this benefit, too. I was fortunate enough to have my wife and two of my three daughters come for the trip, and they enjoyed this experience as well.”

Also accompanying Marcaletti on the trip were SI Chinese teacher Irene Wong and SI coaches Alejandro (Ali) Thomas '97, Jamal Baugh, Jenol Mack and John Murray.

Scenes from Abroad: The SI varsity basketball team was accompanied (above) by Coach Rob Marcaletti '96 and his family and by coaches Ali Thomas '97, Jamal Baugh, Jenol Mack and John Murray. SI language teacher Irene Wong also chaperoned and translated for the team. The boys toured famous sites and enjoyed the cuisine of Taiwan as they dined with athletes from Japan and Taiwan. ## Alumni Director Tim Reardon '86 named new Riordan principal

Tim Reardon '86, longtime English teacher and basketball coach at SI and the alumni director since 2014, began his service as principal of Archbishop Riordan High School in August.

"I'm going to miss SI," said Reardon. "It has been my second family for more than half my life. I've developed so many great friendships here that it's hard to leave it all behind. Still, I look forward to making new friends and helping to build something terrific just four miles away up on Phelan Avenue."

At his new school, Reardon will join classmate John Ring '86, who had served as SI's alumni director and who now works as Riordan's director of development. "I'm very excited to work with my old St. Cecilia's buddy and friend of more than 40 years," said Reardon.

As a student at SI, Reardon played soccer and baseball and served as his class salutatorian before attending the University of Notre Dame, where he played baseball and boxed. He began teaching at SI in 1990 and received his master's degree in education from SFSU six years later.

He coached every level of girls' and boys' basketball at SI and helped the boys' team win three CCS titles and one league crown as well as a CCS championship with the girls' program.

"Coaching is an extension of the classroom, where you have the absolute attention of your students," said Reardon. "All the life lessons from the classroom are put under the microscope on the court because the players are working collaboratively toward a single goal."

He proved a popular and successful English teacher as well, given his own passion for writing. He saw the publication of two of his novels — Shadow Lessons and Part of the Game — and he taught his students, too, how to be successful creative writers.

"I think I was able to make my students laugh, and because they didn't want to miss anything, they paid attention, and then we could get down to the serious work," he noted. "They learned how to write, which is the one practical skill I knew they would use the rest of their lives."

He also made sure that his students learned the life lessons from the books he taught. "In my electives, every book that I chose to teach was one I loved and was passionate about. I hoped my students would recognize my passion and become lifetime readers."

Reardon gained a reputation for making his students feel at home in his classroom. "I made sure that I never had a kid lose his dignity in class, and that is a lesson they can put into practice throughout their own lives. I also taught them not to take themselves too seriously."

He also served as a moderator for The Quill and Inside SI and worked on a variety of boards and committees for the school, including the Principal's Advisory Board, the Financial Aid Committee, the Admissions Committee, the Technology Committee, the Discipline Board and the Faculty Salary and Benefits Team.

He left SI briefly to explore work as a police officer but returned to the classroom and served briefly as SI's Admissions Associate.

As the school's third alumni director, he followed in the footsteps of Jim Dekker '68 and Ring. All three men helped SI have one of the oldest and most distinguished high school alumni programs in the country. The three men created and fostered alumni chapters in Southern California, Arizona, New York, Boston, Chicago, Washington, D.C., Seattle, Marin County and the Peninsula. They also expanded the office's outreach to young alumni, including graduates of SI's BSU, ASC, ALAS and performing arts programs.

Reardon managed 25 alumni events each year, assisted in the school's annual Alumni Giving program, supported social networking efforts, wrote stories for Genesis magazine, oversaw the Alumni Career Networks effort and supervised the 40-person Alumni Board.

He looks forward to working at Riordan along with the school's new president,

Andrew Currier, who was named to that post last February. "The most exciting part of Riordan is that the school already has so many innovative programs in place. My hope is that I can somehow bring a fresh lens to those programs and initiate some of the great ideas that I've developed while working at SI."

Archbishop Riordan, which opened in 1949, is one of two all-boys schools left in the city. "Riordan reminds me of the SI I went to the mid 1980s, and that was such a great experience for so many San Francisco boys. It's imperative that a boys' Catholic school remain in the city."

Reardon is just as rooted in the city. He attended St. Cecilia School and has connections to SI from the days of his father — the Hon. Timothy A. Reardon '59 — as well as more recent connections that come from being the father of three daughters — Kathleen '14, Claire '16 and Lizzy '19.
