The Annual Report of St. Ignatius College Preparatory, San Francisco, Fall 2018

CELEBRATING AN EVENT-FILLED YEAR!

On the pages of this Annual Report, we have grouped photos by month to showcase the wealth of events that take place here at SI. By no means is this an exhaustive list — there are simply far too many things that happen on campus during the course of a year. We offer you a few highlights to give a taste of what life is like for our students, teachers, parents and alumni. Enjoy!

Each year, the school chooses a theme to help students learn more about their Ignatian roots. Last year's theme was "contemplatives in action," and we had much action to contemplate, including the inaugural year of the Fr.

Sauer Academy, our new middle school that reminds us all of our roots in San Francisco. When the school opened in 1855, it included middle school students, and SI continued to teach students younger than high school age throughout the 1800s and into the early part of the 20th century.

Our Fr. Sauer Academy scholars did quite well, excelling in math, reading and language usage. Many came into SI testing below grade level, and they grew 2.2 years on average in these disciplines. As I write this, our pioneering scholars are now in 7th grade and are role models for a new class of sixth graders who are following in their footsteps. This program, I believe, is a model for Jesuit schools and other Catholic schools around the world. Education, we know, empowers people like nothing else.

Our high school students also had a wonderful year on the field, in the gym, on stage, in the classroom and in the community. Our boys' varsity soccer team took the NorCal crown in the first year it was offered and fought their way to a number-two ranking in the U.S. Our track and field team had its best year ever with long jumpers Alex Enos '18 and Megan Ronan '21 and high jumper Delaney Peranich '18 taking first place in league and CCS before medaling at the state meet.

On stage, our actors, singers, dancers and instrumentalists entertained packed theatres with stunning performances. They follow in the footsteps of some of our amazing alumni, such as Adam Jacobs '97, the star of Aladdin, who brought his show to San Francisco this past year. (In fact, he hosted the Fr. Sauer Academy scholars for a wonderful Q&A after the performance.) Francis Jue '81 performed in the breathtaking play and musical Soft Power, Emmy-nominated actor Darren Criss '05 gave a tour-de-force performance in American Crime Story on TV and Bartlett Sher '77 directed the Tony-Award winning My Fair Lady.

In the classroom, our students wrote code, made films, wrote their own short stories and plays and learned skills that will serve them and others throughout their lives. The Robotics Club met disaster shortly before the Silicon Valley Regional FIRST competition when the team's robot broke down in the heat of competition. Alex Ring '18 and Joshua Young '18 had one week to redesign the robot. "People said we didn't have enough time, but we did, and it worked out well," said Alex. "We rolled into the competition with a new arm device that Joshua and I had designed. We decided, 'Let's just do it.'"

That same "let's just do it" attitude inspired Assistant Principal for Student Affairs Robert Gavin to try an innovative approach to the salutatory address at the Awards Assembly. Cooper Veit '18, the students' choice for salutatorian, couldn't be at the assembly, as he was competing that day in Philadelphia with the SI rowing team. Mr. Gavin asked Alex Ring and SITV moderator Mike Santos to fly to Philadelphia and film Cooper there. The two then edited the speech on the flight back and showed it the next day to the assembled student body. Even as impressive as the logistics was the content of Cooper's speech, which gave evidence to the kind of Ignatian SI hopes to graduate.

Our students also had many opportunities to contemplate their place in God's great world. They did so at Friday Morning Liturgies and at schoolwide prayer services. They did this during the summer service trips and immersion experiences. They also wrote about the work that they performed for their community service requirements. If you read the pages of the previous three editions of this magazine, you'll see the fruits of that contemplation in the loving and generous women and men who graduated from SI this year and over the past decades.

All this success could not happen without your support. Please know how appreciative I am to you for your generosity. Your support of our Compass Campaign, of the Fr. Sauer Academy, of the parent clubs' auction and fashion shows and of the annual appeal help us do our job well. From the bottom of my heart, thank you, and Go 'Cats!

Letter from Board President, the Hon. Peter Siggins '73

"A Jesuit school has a governing board which holds the Jesuit and Catholic mission and identity of the school in trust for the Society of Jesus by setting direction, establishing policies and ensuring programs that build and manifest the school's Jesuit and Catholic mission and identity" (Our Way of Proceeding: Standards and Benchmarks for Jesuit Schools in the 21st Century, Standard 4, page 13).

Your SI Board of Trustees began its third year as our school's sole governing body with an all-day retreat on Aug. 27. The day included reflections on our board self-evaluation completed by all trustees at the end of the 2017-2018 academic year, board initiatives and priorities for our current year and Ignatian formation led by new trustee Kevin O'Brien, S.J.

Three new members who were elected to the board began their terms in July. Fr. O'Brien is the current dean of Santa Clara's Jesuit School of Theology in Berkeley. He is joined as a new trustee by Kirk Syme '76 and by William Sheedy. Kirk is the president of Woodstock Development and a former regent and trustee of Santa Clara University. Bill is a former executive vice president of VISA Inc., and currently chairs the VISA Foundation. He brings a wealth of foundation board experience to our group. Trustees Joe Allanson '81, Tony Cucalon '75, Tim Pidgeon '74 and A.J. Rizzo, S.J., left our board after years of dedicated service to our school and community. Though we will miss them, we assured each of them that we may tap into their expertise from time to time. We hope they will never be very far away, and we are grateful for their service.

Last year was an eventful one for the trustees as we are finding our footing as a governing board. Our major committees of Budget/Finance, Governance, Audit, Building and Grounds and Master Plan Development have been busy developing their agendas and policy direction. Each of the committees is assisted by non-trustee members of our SI community who lend a hand and, more importantly, expertise in each of these subject areas. We hope their participation on these committees will become a fertile ground for recruitment of our next generation of trustees.

Prior to this year, SI tuition was set at a level that required additional fundraising to meet school expenses. The Board of Trustees has approved a gradual move to full-cost tuition to eliminate this built-in deficit and free up money for tuition assistance for those families who need the help. To help facilitate these changes, we also approved a new, more efficient faculty schedule that assigns teachers five classes per day in accordance with best practices at Jesuit schools. At the same time that we have been closing this deficit, we have been able to increase tuition assistance. The board is grateful to the entire SI community in supporting the implementation of these changes.

Improving SI's diversity and inclusion is always a priority for our board. The Fr. Sauer Academy is beginning its second year, and the scholars, drawn primarily from San Francisco's public schools in Hunters Point, Bayview and the Mission, add to the richness of diversity and spirit on our campus. Our high school Wildcats contribute to the scholars' growth by tutoring, coaching, leading activities and running peer-mentoring groups. We are blessed to have this new cohort in our SI community and are thankful for the wonderful generosity of benefactors and the hard work of SI faculty that has made it a reality.

The Compass Campaign has been invigorated by the leadership and hard work of Fr. Reese, Joe Vollert '84 and the advancement staff. We continue to build endowment and are moving forward on the replacement of McGucken Hall with a classroom and support building suitable for SI's soon-to-be third century. The school is on sound financial footing and the future looks bright.

We also recently acquired the Fairmont Field site in Pacifica. SI has been leasing this 11-acre property from the Pacifica School District since 2008, and over the years, the school has invested in significant site improvements. It is extensively used for soccer, softball, baseball and field hockey. It will now provide a much-needed permanent venue for a growing part of our athletic program.

Finally, on behalf of the Board of Trustees, I want to express our gratitude for your support of our efforts on behalf of the SI community. We know that we are entrusted with a sacred and life-changing mission for generations of young people. Please know that while some may disagree with our decisions, our process of discernment has never strayed from focusing on what we conclude is in the best interests of our students, their families and the entire SI community. We are governing your school with an eye toward the best Ignatian education for future students we will never have the opportunity to know and a time we will never live long enough to see. Contributing to SI's perpetual success is our legacy. Thank you. ∞

ENDOWED SCHOLARSHIPS

The following are scholarships at St. Ignatius College Preparatory, both perpetually and partially endowed. All scholarships listed in the first section are perpetually endowed. To meet current tuition needs, a new scholarship can be perpetually endowed at $100,000. A corpus of $25,000 is required to have a partial scholarship. The proceeds of the endowments are given annually to deserving and academically qualified SI students in accordance with the provisions of the scholarship. Anyone interested in establishing a perpetual memorial or commemorative scholarship should contact the Advancement Office.

(All scholarships started prior to July 2006 will be forever recognized as a perpetually endowed scholarship at the prior threshold of $50,000, and as a partial scholarship at the prior threshold of $12,500.)

EVERY YEAR WE NOT ONLY PUBLISH THE NAMES of those individuals who have been so generous to us but also list the participants from each class.

THE SI ALUMNI ASSOCIATION WISHES TO THANK those listed below who have given current students the opportunity for lifetime friendships and the gift of a quality education. In the coming years we know we'll see ever-increasing cooperation (and perhaps a little healthy competition) among the various classes. Is 100 percent participation possible? We'd like to think it is.

SFO's International Terminal was lit in red and blue on the night of SI's graduation along with Coit Tower (see page 39) and City Hall (see cover of the summer Genesis magazine). ## Multiyear Donor Club

SI honors those who have made donations to the school for 10 or more consecutive years.

We are indebted to those named here for their unflagging support of St. Ignatius College Preparatory and our mission of forming men and women of conscience, competence and compassion.

We thank our multi-year donors and ask all of you to consider making an annual gift so that, one day, you too may join their ranks.

Report from Zoe Vollert '84, VP for Advancement

DEAR FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS: LAST YEAR WAS A PIVOTAL YEAR.

We successfully started, completed and funded the first year of the Fr. Sauer Academy. Our young 6th grade scholars improved academically by 2.2 years and, more importantly, made great strides in learning how to learn and in understanding the SI way. This pioneer class of Fr. Sauer Academy scholars holds great promise just as our first co-educational class of 1993 did 25 years ago.

The good news is that we had more donors than ever before in our history, eclipsing the 5,000 mark for the first time. The better news is that there are over 13,000 more living alumni and 6,000 more former parents who catch the fire of our vision and choose to join you as our partners in mission.

Our loyal donors added $2.3 million to our Scholarship Endowment Fund, increasing it to $75 million, which in turn provides tuition assistance for more than 340 of our Ignatians. There is no more important resource than our Scholarship Endowment Fund to providing deserving young Ignatians access to SI. Also, a healthy endowment allows us to charge full cost tuition and use that tuition to attract and retain the best possible faculty and staff.

Finally, we have retained the services of the architectural firm Mark Cavagnero Associates to lead us through a pre-construction process to replace McGucken Hall and re-imagine the north side of 2001 37th Avenue.

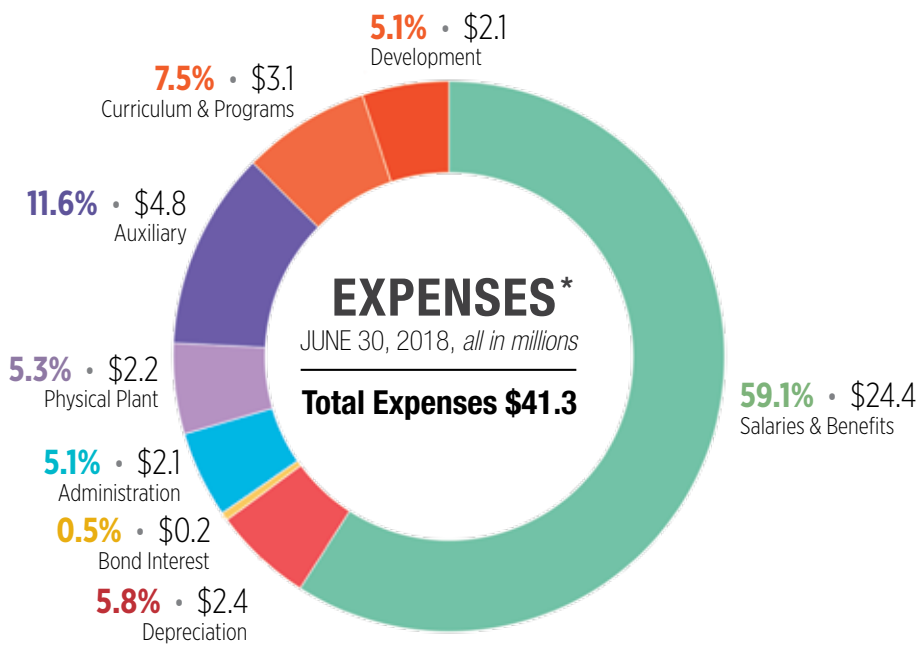

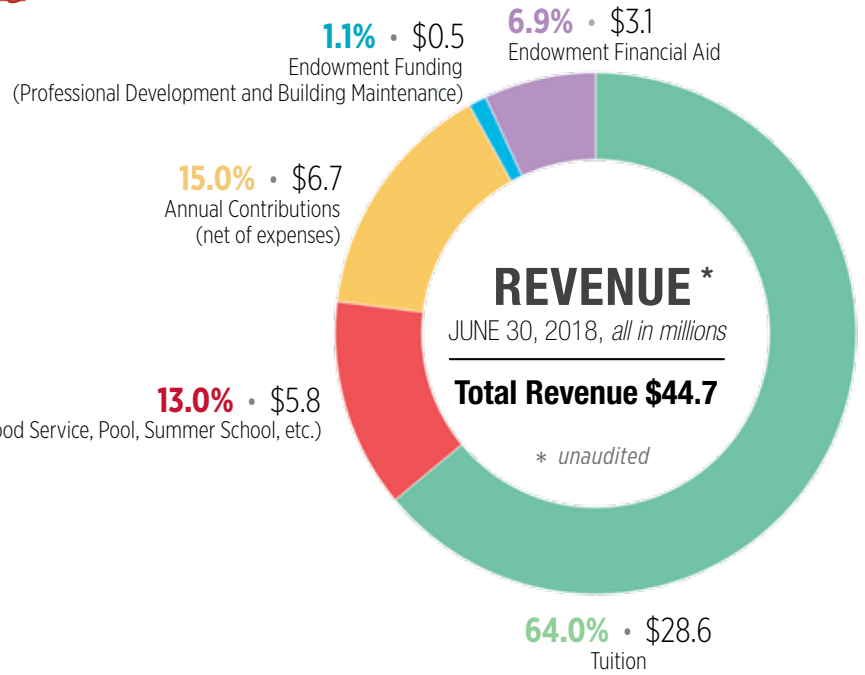

Our dreams are big and our vision bold, but at the heart of our mission is service to the 1,460 young Ignatians we form each year and whom we expect, in turn, to serve the world as contemplatives in action. ∞

Revenue & Expenses 2017-2018

Report from Ken Stupj '78, VP for Finance & Administration

I AM PLEASED TO REPORT THAT OUR INCOME FROM TUITION, ENDOWMENT AND DONATIONS MET last year's expenses.

SI is on a strong financial footing thanks to our parents' commitment to Jesuit education through their tuition payments and donations. We also thank our alumni and friends whose loyal support provides the backbone of our scholarship program. We have advisers and a dedicated group of trustees who oversee finances and investments, and, thanks to them, we have a long-term financial plan keyed on financial sustainability. They have been central to guiding the prudent management of our day-to-day financial operations and investment portfolio.

Finance and investments may seem divorced from the mission of a Jesuit school; however, our budget and investment fund are extensions of our mission as they allow us to live out the Jesuit philosophy that calls for a preferential option for the poor. We are committed to providing access to SI — one of the best secondary schools in the state — for qualified students regardless of their ability to pay while attracting and retaining top teachers and maintaining a state-of-the-art facility. These are herculean tasks given where we live, but we are succeeding thanks to you. ☺

Report from Principal Patrick Ruff

THE 2017-2018 ACADEMIC YEAR FOR US WAS DEDICATED TO THE NOTION OF being contemplatives in action. What precisely does this mean? At the root of our education is Jesuit spirituality, which comes directly from the experiences of Ignatius himself. After hoping to be a great soldier, Ignatius was injured in a battle in 1521. Carried back to his family's castle to recuperate, the proud soldier began reading books on the life of Christ and on the lives of the saints. He began to recognize, through his emotional reactions to what he read, that God was inviting him to something new. Setting aside his old life, Ignatius began to live as a hermit in a cave and experienced a series of mystical moments that convinced him more than ever that he was being called to conversion. Over time, Ignatius gathered together friends who would later form the Society of Jesus.

Everything we do at SI is touched by the insights of this 16th-century soldier-turned-mystic. One of the most important ideas he gave us is the challenge he made to his friends to be "contemplatives in action." This idea resonates with us today, even though contemplation — time to think, reflect or ponder — is not always easy to find. There are so many distractions in life, from email and phone calls to social media and work. As important as these may be, they take up our time. When we are caught up in the business of the day, we forget that peace and quiet are essential to nurturing our spiritual lives. Most of us don't seek long periods of silence for contemplation away from work, families and friends. Ignatius faced the same quandary with his early companions; he counseled them to carve out time for prayer and expected them to lead active lives too. He wanted them to be among the people (particularly the poor) and in the thick of things, and he challenged them to be active people who adopted a meditative stance toward the world. They were to be "contemplatives in action."

Ignatius asked his friends not to seek the spiritual life hiding behind monastic walls and living in silence and isolation; instead, he asked them to see the world as a monastery and to perform an examination of conscience every day — to spend a few minutes to take stock of events and experiences. That is our challenge, too: to be active and engaged in this world while maintaining a meditative approach. We need to create time for prayer, especially in our crowded schedules and hectic lives. This does not mean that we isolate ourselves; rather, we should approach our lives with thought, reflection and introspection. In short, we need to be contemplatives in action. ∞

Lois Grant, first leader of the Heritage Society

Lois Riordan Grant died Aug. 8. She and her late husband, Fred R. Grant '38, had served as the founding chairs of the Father Harry Carlin Heritage Society.

The daughter of John and Catherine Riordan and the sister of Robert O. Riordan '41, Mrs. Grant attended St. Agnes Grammar School, St. Rose Academy and Lone Mountain before beginning her career, which took her to UCSF Medical Center, where she served for many years as manager of the Department of Neurology.

In 1996, Steve Lovette '63, then SI's vice president for development, invited the Grants to serve as the first chairs of the fledgling Heritage Society, which was later renamed to honor the late Harry V. Carlin, S.J., SI's former president. Those who join the organization do so by including SI in their estate plans.

At the first gathering of the Society in the home of Dorothy and Ted Kitt '50, Lovette thanked the 30 founding members for becoming SI's "partners in perpetuity in the enormously important work of educating tomorrow's leaders." Since the Carlin Society was formed, nearly $30 million has been raised primarily for endowed scholarships, and the number of Heritage Society members has grown to almost 200.

After stepping down as chairs of the Heritage Society, the Grants served for many years as ambassadors of the organization, encouraging others to join.

Mrs. Grant also served as a past president of the UCSF Retirees' Association and served on the boards of the Auxiliary of Little Sisters of the Poor of St. Anne's Home and the Auxiliary of Little Children's Aid.

Donations in her memory may be made to the Fred R. Grant Memorial Scholarship Fund at SI or the Jean Gorman Memorial Fund at Heritage on the Marina.

The SI boys' basketball team spends the summer wintering in Argentina

The boys' varsity basketball team traveled to Argentina for 12 days starting at the end of June to compete with other teams and to enjoy learning about a new culture. The trip follows last year's excursion to Taiwan. Head Boys' Basketball Coach Rob Marcaletti '96 sent the following dispatch to the SI faculty upon his return to San Francisco. Students who went on the trip were Stephen Austria '20, Daniel Webster '20, Malcolm McCray-Hill '20, Kourosh Kahn '20, Danny Ryan '20, Zach Taylor-Smith '20, Ethan Jew '21, Jackson Canady '20, Ross Klein '19, Sam Nangle '19, Garrett Cason '19, Bobby Berliner '19 and Owen Jennings '19. Coaches included Marcaletti, Paul Bourke, Jamal Baugh and John Murray.

DEAR FACULTY:

I firmly believe that traveling abroad is an essential experience for a young person's maturation process, and as Ignatians, we learn that the world is our classroom. My fellow coaches and I hoped to expose our students to another culture while helping to strengthen our bond as a team and gaining invaluable basketball experience. I wanted the players to take ownership of this trip and asked each family to be responsible for the cost of travel. All players had the opportunity to work off their plane ticket, taking most or all of the financial burden completely off their families. We were also very fortunate for our Argentinian sponsor who helped make this trip a reality.

I felt compelled both to share our experiences with you and to express gratitude for your support and the amazing work you have done educating and cultivating these young men's minds and hearts throughout the year. I was immensely proud of the way our players represented our school and our community as ambassadors throughout the country on the court and in the greater communities, including at several Argentinian high schools. Their skills, values and characteristics were molded and formed in the classroom and throughout the halls of SI on a daily basis, and I am very grateful for all you do to make this happen.

We began our trip with more than 24 hours of travel to the Patagonia region of Bariloche. Upon our evening arrival to a small mountain town, we were welcomed to a traditional Argentinian dinner of different meats, sausages and breads and were hosted by teachers from the local high school in Villa La Angostura. Our first official day was jam-packed with activities beginning with watching the Argentina vs. France World Cup game with locals in the town center. Despite the loss, it was incredible to see firsthand the love and passion the people of Argentina have for their team and country. We then had an intense competition against a local wheelchair basketball team. The boys were out of their comfort zone, as they had to adapt to new rules and restrictions while attempting to navigate on the court in their wheelchairs. I know this experience gave our players a newfound respect and appreciation for the challenges wheelchair-bound individuals endure on a daily basis.

The boys then assisted the coaching staff in running a free basketball skills development clinic open to local youths from 8 to 18. About a month prior to our visit, we worked with our host to advertise this clinic on a local television and local radio station. We expected the turnout to be 20 to 30 players but were pleasantly surprised to be greeted by more than 100 enthusiastic campers, each of whom brought along family members. Some traveled over an hour to attend the clinic. A few of our players were crucial in helping the coaching staff navigate the language barrier; their Spanish education at SI definitely paid off!

After the clinic, we had our first practice of the trip in anticipation of our upcoming games. Surprisingly, the majority of local students and their families stayed to watch our hour-and-a-half practice and then talk to the players afterwards. Later that night, we had a dinner with local high school students and teachers that turned into the Argentinian version of prom. The boys were able to experience different music and dance styles popular with their Argentinian counterparts.

The next morning, we woke up to 4 inches of fresh snow! There's nothing like a team-wide snowball fight at 7 a.m. on the front lawn of our hotel to start the day. We then took an hour boat ride across Nahuel Huapi Lake, which reminded us of Lake Tahoe, to arrive on an island that is home to Los Arrayanes National Park, the only place in the world to see what the locals refer to as "the orange trees." It is rumored that Walt Disney had his inspiration for Bambi from this park. We hiked in the rain, and, once back to shore, 10 local families picked us up and brought pairs of students to their homes for lunch. It was a treat to meet these families and experience more of the local customs and traditions of the country.

That evening, we returned to the gym for practice to find the local team along with more than 100 of their fans waiting to watch our practice and a mixed inter-squad game between our two teams. The following day, we attended classes at the local high school, where some of our boys took a chemistry test in Spanish while others assisted in teaching English to the Argentinian students. We then participated in their daily hour-long mediation/siesta followed by lunch and more student interaction. I am confident the team has a better understanding of "how good we have it" at home as we walked to school at 7:45 a.m. in the freezing wind and snow. Later that day, we were able to experience the immensity of the Andes by visiting the local ski resort of Cerro Bayo. Some players rode their first ever chair lift, and the team enjoyed sledding on what are the smallest sleds I have ever seen. Our final day in Bariloche was spent visiting the local Catholic high school and learning how to make and form empanadas from scratch with the students.

Our next adventure to Bahia Blanca (the hometown of Manu Ginobili of the San Antonio Spurs and former Temple, NBA and national team gold medalist Pepe Sanchez) began with a 14-hour overnight bus ride. The next four days were filled with morning practices, training and very competitive night games against one of Argentina's best 18-to-23-year-old pro teams, Bahia Basket, coached by Manu's brother. I was proud of the way our guys continued to compete against some of the country's elite talent. After another long bus ride, we ended our trip in Buenos Aires. There we were able to play against one of the country's top 17U teams as well as explore the sights, traditional food, outdoor markets, music and all the culture the amazing city has to offer. This included visiting the Plaza de Mayo, Casa Rosada (the president's palace) and San Ignacio de Loyola Church, built by the Jesuits in the 1600s and the oldest church in Buenos Aires. It was a fitting way to end a trip that I firmly believe will assist these student-athletes becoming more well-rounded, open and appreciative men for others.

Many thanks, too, to Pedro Cafasso for his detailed information and help planning our trip throughout Argentina. ∞

Edward Reese, S.J., offers eulogy and blessings for Sen. John McCain in front of a national audience

Last April, Cindy McCain called SI President Edward Reese, S.J., regarding her husband's terminal illness. Given their close ties, ones that grew during Fr. Reese's 20-year service as president of Brophy College Preparatory in Phoenix, both she and John McCain asked that Fr. Reese be part of the senator's funeral services when the time came.

Three days after Sen. McCain died on Aug. 25 at the age of 81, Fr. Reese flew to Arizona to be with the McCain family and speak at four separate services in Phoenix, Washington, D.C., and Annapolis, blessing the casket and offering homilies that were televised around the world and heard in person by three former presidents and vice presidents, as well the senator's family and friends, military service members and Washington insiders.

Fr. Reese first met the McCains in 1997 while staying near Cottonwood, Ariz., at the Hidden Valley cabin of a close friend.

While sitting on the deck along with Steve Privett, S.J., USF's president at the time, Fr. Reese first met Cindy McCain. "I saw a dog run up to us, and while I was playing with him, Cindy came up to me and said, 'You must be Fr. Reese. You'll have to join us for dinner tonight.'"

That first meeting was the start of a long friendship that included Cindy serving on Brophy's Board of Trustees and the McCains sending their two sons, Jack and Jim, to Brophy in the early 2000s.

Fr. Reese often attended parties at the McCain home, including legendary Fourth of July gatherings and celebrations around Christmas. "John's younger son, Jim, as a boy loved to hide in the bushes wearing camouflage and toss snowballs at the guests. He was just like his father — full of energy and a force of nature."

Fr. Reese grew to love and respect both John and Cindy, and learned of Cindy's work with Operation Smile, helping to send medical missions around the world. He also found himself part of John's desire to have "organized fun," as Fr. Reese put it. "During one Fourth of July party, he had team t-shirts made. This was during a time when he was fighting for campaign finance reform. I ended up, along with Cindy, on Team Special Interest. Both John and Cindy made sure every visitor felt at home on their ranch."

While the two men never talked politics, they did discuss John's passion for religion, especially for his travels to European monasteries and cathedrals. They also discussed his love of nature. "John would drive me around his ranch to admire the native plants that he hoped would help the animals on his property thrive. He especially loved one hawk that he looked after."

John's respect for Fr. Reese led to an invitation to offer the opening prayer of the Republic National Convention in 2008 and a prayer on election night, when Sen. McCain conceded the election to Barack Obama. "Even though neither John nor Cindy were Catholic, I think they considered me their family priest."

Following John's death, Cindy called Fr. Reese to arrange for his travels, first to Phoenix for the Aug. 29 viewing in the Arizona State Capitol, and then for the Aug. 30 service at North Phoenix Baptist Church. Fr. Reese flew on the same plane as the McCains to Washington, D.C., for the Sept. 1 service at the National Cathedral, and he said a blessing over the coffin at a private burial at the Naval Academy in Annapolis Sept. 2.

Despite the surroundings and the important women and men in the congregation at the National Cathedral, Fr. Reese said he felt "no more nervous than when I preach at the SI Baccalaureate Mass. My friend Bill Rewak, S.J., the former president of SCU, sent me a note saying that I was probably the only California Jesuit who had ever preached in front of three presidents. That never occurred to me at the time. Only afterwards, on the trip home, did it hit me."

Shortly before the service at the National Cathedral, Fr. Reese spent time with the "three formers," as the church staff called the past presidents who attended — Presidents

Bill Clinton, George W. Bush and Barack Obama. "I greeted the men as they came in, and they were all very friendly. Then the three huddled around each other like brothers. They looked relaxed and happy to see each other."

For his homily, Fr. Reese recited the final six lines from "As kingfishers catch fire, dragonflies draw flame," a sonnet by Gerald Manley Hopkins, S.J. that included the line, "I say more: the just man justices."

"That line just fit for John, and I couldn't think of anything better. I often told him that he was more Jesuit than most Jesuits, as he found God in all things."

After his Aug. 30 and Sept. 1 homilies, Fr. Reese received high fives from members of the armed forces and from those organizing the services. "Both groups appreciated how brief my remarks were, I think."

Perhaps the best tribute Fr. Reese witnessed for his old friend was the return of so many former McCain staffers. "The men and women whom I saw in 2008 told their bosses they had to be away for a week or more. They had important jobs, but they dropped everything to come to help Cindy and the family with all the arrangements. They even found one piece of my missing luggage that got lost on the way to D.C. I don't think they slept all week."

Fr. Reese reports on the inaugural year of the Fr. Sauer Academy

The new Fr. Sauer Academy sixth graders began their academic journey at SI in August.

Dear Friend of SI,

“The Fr. Sauer Academy is very different than my elementary school. Something that is different is the curriculum. I feel that they challenge and prepare us to go to high school and college. We also have religion as one of our classes that I think not many schools have. I think we are in the right place to learn and grow at the Fr. Sauer Academy.”

-Andrea Phillips FSA '20, SI '24

As the Fr. Sauer Academy scholars begin their new year, we wanted to take a moment to update our supporters with highlights from our scholars' first year.

On average, our scholars grew 2.2 years in math, reading and language usage based on scores from the Northwest Evaluation Association MAP Growth tests. Perhaps more importantly, our 23 scholars grew in their understanding of and ability to thrive in a Jesuit, Catholic college preparatory school setting.

The presence of St. Ignatius College Preparatory students, parents, alumni and other volunteers was a true blessing for our scholars, as they benefited from tutoring, co-curricular activities, art class and enriching field trips.

Some highlights from their first year:

- Thanks to the SF Giants, scholars attended a game at AT&T Park in September 2017, the first for most of our sixth graders. Buster Posey threw a ball to one of our scholars.
- Our boys' and girls' basketball teams competed in CYO athletics with uniforms thanks to one of our donors.
- The scholars attended Aladdin with Mr. Peter Devine '66 where they met lead actor Adam Jacobs '97 after the show backstage, where he answered questions from every scholar.
- They spent a week at Outdoor Ed at CYO Camp in Occidental, the first time many of them spent a night away from home. This was a pivotal growth and bonding experience for them.
- A couple of SI upperclassmen prepared a group of our scholars to perform a dance routine at a BSU Showcase in April.
- A number of scholars had a chance to meet former 49er Vernon Davis, the speaker at the Father-Student Dinner in May.

- This past summer, the scholars thrived in our seven-week summer session, which offered them academic enrichment or remediation based on each student's needs as well as the opportunity to participate in sports, arts and STEM summer camps at St. Ignatius and a sleep-away at CYO Camp in Sonoma County.

“Here in the Fr. Sauer Academy, we follow the verbs Persist, Love, Lead, Unite, Serve and Seek. We all need to follow these verbs to be the good scholars that our teachers, our parents and we want to be. The Fr. Sauer Academy is very different from my old elementary school because here we are being challenged to be really strong learners. I have grown so much this year and I went from being a C student to being an A and B student. I am also very excited to go to SI because I know that I will have the ability to attend a good college and do my dream job, architecture.”
