

The Curriculum

Reading is taught through writing, as the children create and then read their own books of familiar stories and poems. Throughout the elementary grades, children are immersed in a rich medium of oral and literary language experience, including poetry, storytelling, speech, drama, composition, and creative writing.

