What is the Hiram G. Andrews Center? A comprehensive state-operated facility located in Johnstown, Pa., which offers rehabilitative, educational, vocational, life management and counseling services, resulting in employment and independence for persons with disabilities.

What is the Commonwealth Technical Institute?

A postsecondary trade and technical school licensed by the Pennsylvania Department of Education and accredited by the Accrediting Commission of Career Schools and Colleges (ACCSC), located within the Hiram G. Andrews Center (CTI@HGAC).

What training programs are offered at CTI? Six associate degree programs - ASB Medical Office Assistant, AST Architectural Drafting, AST Culinary Arts, AST Dental Laboratory Technology, AST Mechanical Drafting, and AST Networking and Telecommunications Technology - and eight diploma programs - Automotive Technology, Building Maintenance, Business Retail Sales, Culinary Arts-Kitchen Helper, Materials Management and Distribution, Nurse Aide, Office Technology, and Printing Technology.

What support services and programs are available to facilitate student success?

CTI@HGAC offers vocational rehabilitation counseling, learning support and tutoring, Cognitive Skills Enhancement Program (CSEP), Center for Assistive and Rehabilitative Technology (CART), disability support services, deaf/hard of hearing services, services for students with visual impairments, therapeutic services, Career Guidance Center services, driver training, independent living skills services, the Center for Occupational Readiness (COR), recreational services and more. In addition, a student can participate in a 2-3 week vocational evaluation process that identifies the student's strengths, allows for classroom tryouts, and provides recommendations for appropriate training programs.

Sounds great...may I tour the campus? Tours are always available to prospective students, parents/family, teachers, etc. Call 800-762-4211 ext. 0645, or 814-254-0645 today to schedule your tour! You may also visit the website at www.hgac.org for additional information.

How can I make a referral? The referral process typically begins by contacting the Office of Vocational Rehabilitation (OVR) within the region of the student's residence. For additional information, please contact HGAC/CTI's Admissions Office at 800-762-4211 or 814-254-0564.
