OUR FOUNDERS
Our parents, James Chandler, Sr. and Ellen Turner, valued education since having been part of the Great Migration. The experience of African Americans moving north for a better way of life left them with the desire to make sure their children received an education. Teola Tillman, the eldest female sibling of the Chandler/Turner family wanted to develop a way the family could give back to the community. With this in mind, Teola along with siblings, Eldora Gray and James Chandler Jr, created the Chandler/Turner Scholarship Fund. It began in 1999. The scholarship honors the legacy of the Chandler parents, Ellen and James Chandler Senior who were strong visionaries with their children in encouraging higher education.
