

REPORTING TO PARENTS/GUARDIANS

The Board of Trustees believes that good communication between parent and teacher is important in the educational process.

With this in mind, the Board believes that the reporting contracts between parent and teacher should be varied and frequent. All forms and methods of communications, such as report cards, parent-teacher conferences, mail, telephone, email, and school visitation by parents will be utilized.

The report card should reflect the educational growth of the student in relationship to the student's ability, attitudes, interests, conduct or citizenship, achievement and progress in meeting standards.

Students who are on an individualized education program are evaluated regularly, and the evaluations shall be communicated to the parents according to the regulations of the special education service region.
