

Moore Has Dedicated Herself To Education

TUPELO, Miss. — Candi Moore-Saul can never recall a time she didn't love the school environment. As a student and now as the fourth-year principal at Thomas Street Elementary, it's been her life journey.

This West Point native did, though, cut her own education a little short by graduating early at the age of 16. However, it offered her an opportunity to pursue her career quicker after completing her degree at Mississippi State.

Married with two kids, she loves the Destin beach and waves. Away from the sand, you might find her painting, reading or spending time with family and friends.

But if you really want to make her happy, offer a ribeye steak with grilled shrimp and a potato. As for squash, it sits atop the "Do Not Eat" list.

This week's TPSD Administrative Focus and winner of a Buffalo Wild Wings gift card is Thomas Street Elementary principal, Candi-Moore-Saul.
