Temple City, CA – The Rams Repertory Company of TCHS is proud to present their spring LIVE production of: The Imaginary Invalid* by Moliere. Moliere's French satire is just as relevant in 2022 as it was when it originally premiered in 1673.

This modern production of the classic play features Argan as a wealthy, reality-tv housewife and hypochondriac who makes everyone in her life miserable with her melodramatic suffering and endless, unnecessary curative treatments. Her homeopathic, holistic, naturopathic, and alternative doctors and apothecaries are bleeding her dry--literally and figuratively. Argan's duplicitous second husband schemes to inherit her whole estate while he is busy swiping right on his smartphone. Her son, Angé, is in love with Cléante, but Argan engages him to an oafish medical student, so as to secure more physicians for herself. Argan's foolish and unshakable devotion to questionable medicine is out of control, and it is up to Toinette, the family's faithful home healthcare worker, to set the household right again. Hilarity ensues as Cleante, Toinette, and Argan's sister, Beralde, all try to change her mind. Eventually, she is convinced when, while pretending to be dead, she discovers that her new husband is only in it for the money, but her son truly loves her. She consents to his marriage with Cleante. Beralde convinces Argan to become a doctor and treat herself.

Audience members should know that this will be an OUTDOOR performance in the Lunch Shelter Stage at the Temple City High School campus. Please dress appropriately. In keeping with COVID-19 restrictions, please note the following requirements.
