WATERCOLOR PLAY

This is a introductory class intended to be relaxing, fun, and with an emphasis on play. We will begin with a few tips for working with watercolor media, practice different brush strokes, followed by guided activities specially chosen for the session. Instructor Gail will lead participants step-by-step to create a 5x7 notecard painting. No experience necessary!

Gail's approach toward watercolor is aligned with a wabisabi approach to art – to embrace imperfection and recognize that, yes, in fact, there is such a thing as a happy accident! It is a forgiving approach that fosters an experimental spirit, encouraging you to explore the abstract nature of color, shape, and texture - and most importantly - to have fun!

Bring your own watercolor paints and brushes, or a beginner watercolor set and brushes can be purchased for $15. Gail will provide all other supplies.
