Lexington Philharmonic Visits AES

South Kentucky RECC sponsored the Lexington Philharmonic's "Music Tells a Story" program at Albany Elementary School on Friday, March 17, 2017. Students were treated to the story of "Peter and the Wolf" recited and set to music. In addition, students in the third and fourth grades enjoyed a "petting zoo" with the various instruments. This was an opportunity for students to handle the instruments and see how they work, in hopes that this would spark an interest in them to join their school's band when they can. Members of the Clinton County High School band assisted with the instrument exploration. Research has shown that students who participate in music education through the schools perform better, and it enhances skills that can be used in other areas.

Learning is Fun in 3rd Grade!

The students in Mrs. Jona Guffey's and Mrs. Samantha Marcum-Blackaby's 3rd grade classes at Albany Elementary School traveled to the Wolf Creek Fish Hatchery to tour the hatchery, as well as receive an up close and personal look at reptiles. Students also had the opportunity to feed the trout in the raceway, play an environmental game to simulate resources such as food, water, shelter, and space, and partner up for a scavenger hunt!

The students in Mrs. Jona Guffey's and Mrs. Samantha Marcum-Blackaby's 3rd grade classes recently completed their book study of

Because of Winn Dixie. As a culminating event, students helped to make Dump Punch and Egg Salad, just as the characters from the story.

Students discussed the importance of using recipes and measurement.

The 3rd grade students at Albany Elementary School recently traveled to the Bluegrass Stockyards to view the stock sale. Later that afternoon, the students had the opportunity to sample steak provided by the Cattleman's Association. The Clinton County Extension Office was a huge help in setting up this endeavor. A big thanks to Colby Guffey, Christy Nueztman Guffey, Junior Cecil, and Stacy Smith!

Zoodles Animal Education Program

Students at Albany Elementary School enjoyed hands on education with some unique animals from the Zoodles Animal Education Program on Monday, March 20, 2017. Presenters discussed each animal, their habitat, and took questions from the students. Students were then provided an opportunity to get their picture taken with either a baby wallaby, a skink, or a bearded dragon. Bonnie, the baby wallaby was a big hit, but their Solomon (parrot) was not at all impressed with our Solomon in Mr. Terry's Lab. Lots of fun was had by students and staff.

Computer Science Initiative

Clinton County was recently chosen as one of the districts for the Advance Kentucky Computer Science Initiative and will implement Code.org

In Partnership

The Kentucky Computer Science Initiative is the result of a partnership of the Kentucky Department of Education, College Board, and Code.org that provides support to districts in developing and strengthening computer science programs for students in grades K-12. Mr. Eric Mercer and Mr.

Terry Shelley from Albany Elementary School will attend training in Lexington this summer for Computer Science Fundamentals (CSF). Mrs. Courtney Norris from Clinton County High School and Mrs. Lora Grant from Clinton County Middle School will attend training in Houston this summer for Computer Science Principles (CSP).

Battle of the Books

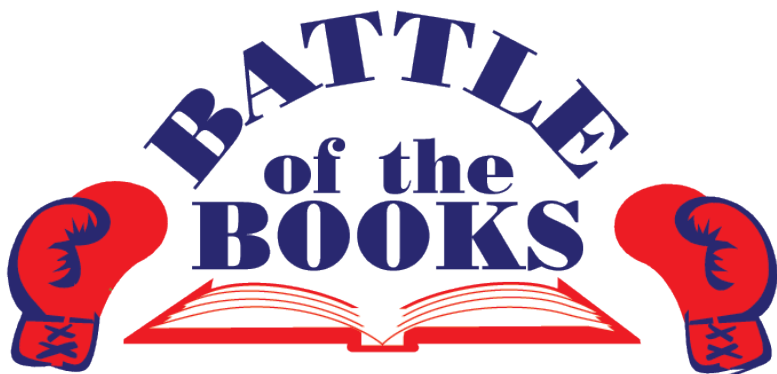

America's Battle of the Books is a reading incentive program for students in 3rd thru 12th grades. Students read books and compete in teams to demonstrate their abilities and to test their knowledge of the books they high-scoring participants were rewarded with a trip to Sky Zone in Lexington over spring break.

The 5th annual Clinton County Schools Taste Test Sampler was held at Clinton County High School on April 18, 2017, in conjunction with the CCHS Academic Showcase and the Gifted & Talented Art Show. Over 300 people came out to sample potential new menu items for next school year and to vote for their favorites. Thanks to current and incoming Food Services Directors Georgia Rigney and Paulette Brinley, and Food Services Secretary Alice Morrison, as well as the school cafeteria kitchen managers and cooks for the hard work they put into making this event possible. Reality Town 2017

On Tuesday, April 11, 2017, the eighth-graders at Clinton County Middle School and the students at Foothills Academy got a taste of the real world at Reality Town. This exercise is an effort to help students gain the knowledge necessary to set educational and career goals in order to obtain the lifestyles they want. The purpose of this event is to remind students that they can make choices now that will help them reach their goals.

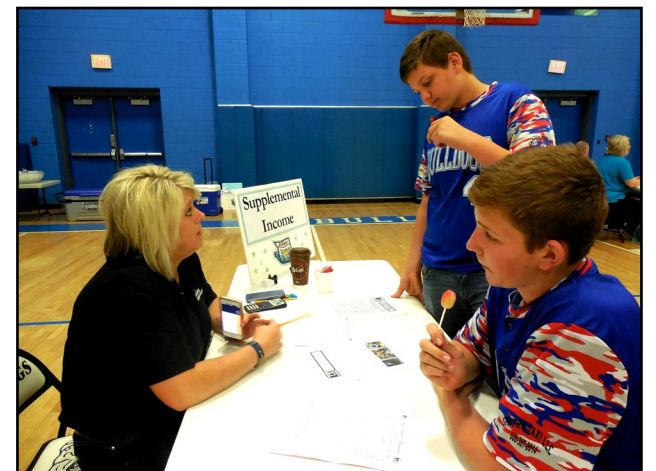

Before entering Reality Town, students chose their careers and randomly selected cards to determine the number of children they had. They were required to move through all the booths in Reality Town. They began their adventure at the Uncle Sam booth, where taxes were subtracted from their gross monthly salaries. Next, each student visited the Bank booth to open a checking account and a savings account, if desired. Then students followed a Route Card to visit the remaining booths, including Housing, Utilities, Transportation, Insurance, Property Taxes, Medical / Dental, Health & Beauty, Child Care, Grocery, Furniture, Clothing, Communications, Entertainment, and Contributions. Fate intervened at the Crystal Ball booth with unexpected expenses and an occasional windfall. Volunteers at the S.O.S. booth assisted students who experienced difficulties, while the Supplemental Income booth was available for those who needed to find additional sources of funds - like a second job. At the Vice booth, students learned the high cost of smoking.

Reality Town is a collaborative project coordinated by Clinton County Cooperative Extension Service, Clinton County Middle School, CCMS Youth Services Center, 21st Century Community Learning Center, GEAR UP, and Community Education. Reality Town was funded through contributions by First & Farmer's National Bank and Monticello Banking Company. We especially appreciate all of the community volunteers who helped make Reality Town a success.

NBA Math Hoops

NBA Math Hoops is a fast-paced basketball board game, curriculum, and community program that allows students to learn fundamental math skills through direct engagement with the real statistics of their favorite NBA and WNBA players. The NBA Math Hoops curriculum is tied to Common Core State Standards and 21st Century Learning Skills, and it has been shown to improve students' basic math skills and understanding of statistics, in addition to their interpersonal skills, driving them to collaborate more effectively with their peers. Students at Clinton County Middle School have been playing NBA Math Hoops to improve addition, subtraction, multiplication, and division skills and speed. They were recently awarded basketballs, t-shirts, and hats for their participation in the NBA Math Hoops program. Pictured below are students by grade level with their awards.

The goal of Rural Up! is to create an exciting and engaging environment in which middle school and high school students are challenged to think about technology in very tangible and applicable ways. By giving them the information and resources needed for success in computer coding, Rural Up! hopes that they will become leaders of the high tech workforce right here in Kentucky. The students were introduced to basic concepts in computer programming by professionals in the field, Nick Such and Jeff Reed.

Take Me Out to the Ball Game!

On Wednesday, April 19, 2017, students in the Gifted & Talented program at Clinton County High School had the opportunity to participate in the Lexington Legends Game Day Education Program at Applebee's Park in Lexington. Legends Education Days are 10:00 AM baseball games that happen during the school year to give teachers and students an opportunity to visit the ballpark with their schools and create lasting memories while learning about Our Nation's Pastime. Students learn about the significant role that baseball has played in American history and the civil rights movement. Additionally, the Game Days are filled with science and math learning opportunities. CCHS students participated in a STEM Fair, where Jessica Criswell won a prize for building the tallest tower.

Students Visit Kentucky Horse Park

On March 30 & 31, 2017, students in the Gifted & Talented program from across the district were transported to Lexington, Kentucky to the Kentucky Horse Park. Students visited the world-renowned International Museum of the Horse. The International Museum of the Horse (IMH), a Smithsonian Affiliate, examines the role of horses throughout world history, from ancient times to today's most popular sporting events. In addition to permanent and featured exhibits, the IMH exhibits a collection of equine art from artists around the world. Students also participated in the Draft Horse Demonstration. This demonstration covered a variety of information about the draft horses, including show preparation, harnessing, and breed history. Next students participated in the Breeds Barn Show. The show contained music, narration and interaction, in which humankind's six thousand year partnership with the horse was brought to life. Students also took part in the Groom and Shine program.

American Woodmark Mini Grants

Clinton County Adult Education was presented with a mini grant from American Woodmark Foundation on April 24, 2017. This money will be used for a GED Scholarship fund to provide financial assistance for students having difficulty paying for GED testing fees. In recent years, the cost of the GED has skyrocketed, and this has deterred many students in our low income area from pursuing the GED test. Clinton County Adult Education is very thankful for the opportunity to provide financial assistance so students can pursue their educational endeavors. If you would like information about the GED or GED classes, please call Nicole or Mitch at (606) 387-6648. Pictured at right are Jerry Starns, Mitch Latham, Tiffany Hancock, Crystal Humphrey, Angela Bell, Amy Garner Abner, and Nicole Cross.

Also on Monday, April 24, 2017, Jerry Starns from American Woodmark visited Clinton County Middle School to present a check for a mini grant awarded to CCMS. The funds will be utilized to make improvements to the softball and baseball fields at CCMS. Mr. Starns is pictured below with CCMS Principal Teresa Scott and members of the softball and baseball teams.

Operation Preparation 2017

On March 27 & 29, 2017, volunteers throughout the Clinton County School District, as well as community agencies and organizations came together to work with students during Operation Preparation. For two days, these volunteer mentors met one-on-one with all 8th and 10th grade students. As they reviewed Individual Learning Plans (IEP), the adults and students discussed career aspirations, as well as required education, training, and workforce skills needed for careers. Students had the opportunity to look over their MAP test results to see if they were on target to meet their goals. Class schedules and grades were examined to determine whether the students were taking the courses recommended to prepare them for a life beyond high school. The mentors also talked with the students about their attendance records, stressing the importance of making the most of their school experience to ensure a successful future.

Showcasing the Arts

Clinton County Middle School was awarded a Showcasing the Arts grant from the Kentucky Arts Council. The Showcasing the Arts grant provides funds to assist Kentucky schools in offering students high quality performing and visual arts experiences in the school setting. Clinton County Middle School utilized the funds to host Burkesville visual artist Patricia Ritter in workshops with the 7th and 8th grade students on March 22 & 23, 2017. Students saw samples of Mrs. Ritter's artwork, learned about the technical aspects of creating the pieces, reflected on the artwork, learned about careers in art, and created their own works of art. These workshops address several of the Kentucky Department of Education's academic standards for arts and humanities, as well as demonstrators for the Visual and Performing Arts program review. As a post-presentation activity, students used their own creativity and imagination to finish an incomplete landscape created using only basic shapes and lines.

CCHS Celebrates Earth Day 2017

Clinton County High School partnered with Keystone Foods for an Earth Day celebration on Friday, April 21st. Earth Day is an annual event that started in 1970 to raise awareness about the environment. As a way to promote an awareness of our county's natural resources and beauty, Keystone Foods partnered with Clinton County High School to develop Earth Day activities. Prior to Friday, April 21, 2017, the 11th grade students each wrote a 500-word essay about the importance of preserving our county's natural areas. Over one hundred essays were submitted, and the top 25 were sent to Keystone. They then selected the top three essays to be awarded prizes. London Honeycutt won 1st place, below left. Maggie Wells won 2nd place, below center. Jazz Sell won 3rd place, below right. Along with the monetary awards for prizes, Keystone also purchased Earth Day shirts for all the juniors to wear on that day. In addition to the generous support of Keystone, the CCHS Earth Day celebration was supported by County Judge Executive Richard Armstrong, who came to speak to the students that Friday morning about the importance of caring for our community. Sheriff Jim Guffey and PRIDE Coordinator Ricky Starnes also spoke with students about using precautions when collecting trash in the area. Superintendent Charlotte Nasief addressed the students and commended them on their participation in the Earth Day activities. Students then went to four locations in the county for trash pickup: Fairground Area, Concord Area, Stony Point Area, and Mountain View Park. The community was very supportive in providing usage of shelter areas at the fairgrounds, Concord Church, Stony Point Church, and Mountain View Park for the students to use during lunch and to get out of the rain. The day was a huge success. In addition to learning about what it takes to preserve our natural resources, the students also were taught the value of community service.

Truth or Consequences: The Choice is Yours

On Friday, March 17, 2017, freshmen students at Clinton County High School participated in the Truth and Consequences event. "Truth and Consequences: The Choice Is Yours" is an enrichment event designed to allow students to see the consequences of drug and alcohol abuse. Students were given scenarios and then visited appropriate officials as if they had actually engaged in the behavior. Parents and volunteers worked with the youth as they visited booths, such as court system, school administration, counselors, and jail. Students also participated in interactive and informative sessions with Mary Trotman of the U.S. Attorney's Office and representatives from the office of Probation and Parole. At the conclusion of the event, a mock accident was staged, with participating organizations such as law enforcement, hospital, and ministers, responding accordingly. The event included over 150 students, parents, volunteers, and community partners. Truth and Consequences is organized by the County Cooperative Extension Office.

Freshman Visit Tennessee Tech

On March 21, 2017, the Clinton County High School freshman class went to Tennessee Tech for a college visit. An admissions counselor spoke with the students about tuition cost, the variety of programs offered, dorm life, activities on campus, and provided other information to the students. The students also learned that CCHS graduates qualify for in-state tuition because of an agreement with the county and Tennessee Tech. The students split up into several groups to tour the campus and stopped at various locations to learn more interesting facts about Tennessee Tech. After the tour, the students enjoyed a buffet style lunch at the campus cafeteria.

CCHS English Classes Present & Attend Shakespeare Plays

Mrs. Angela Sloan's Dual Credit English 102 class at Clinton County High School will be presenting the play Macbeth at Good Neighbors Theatre in Byrdstown, Tennessee. The students have studied Shakespeare's famous play of the evil Scottish ruler during their time in class, and they then decided it would be even better if they could perform it. The play will be performed on Monday, May 15, 2017 at 6:00 pm at Good Neighbors Theatre in Byrdstown. There will be no admission fee, but there will be a donation box set up for the theatre since they have so kindly volunteered their facility for the performance.

Students in the English I & II Pre-AP classes at Clinton County High School attended the presentation of William Shakespeare's A Midsummer Night's Dream at Lindsey Wilson

College on Friday, April 28th. The play was presented by the LWC theatre program.

The Clinton County High School KUNA students attended the Kentucky United Nations Assembly at the Galt House in Louisville on March 26-28, 2017. The Kentucky United Nations Assembly (KUNA) is a 3-day experiential learning conference in which students participate directly in simulated international diplomacy. KUNA offers students the opportunity to experience the richness of cultures from around the world, develop empathy, and hone their critical thinking skills while engaging with a wide variety of perspectives and global issues. The CCHS group received the KUNA Delegation of Excellence award.

Clinton County Middle School received an Arts Inclusion award in the amount of $1,300.00, funded by VSA Kentucky, a non-profit organization that provides opportunities in the arts for children and adults with disabilities. This award funded a week-long program at CCMS with Burkesville teaching artist Patricia

Ritter, which concluded on Friday, March 24, 2017. During the project, Mrs. Ritter worked with the entire 8th grade class to design and paint a mural on the walls in the gym entryway, illustrating the Determination + Attitude + Willingness + Goals = Success! motto. The DAWGS wall was designed by Nevaeh Warinner, the Balls and Bows wall was designed by Kayli Hadley, and the Pom-Poms were designed by Christin Shelton. All 8th grade students had an opportunity to contribute to the project by sketching the design on the wall or painting.
