In planning the 2022-2023 academic calendar, we navigated many considerations in order to build a calendar that works for our community. We appreciate that individuals in our community may observe additional religious holidays, and we respect decisions that may also require a planned absence and/or special consideration for homework or studying. Please contact your Campus Head in this situation, and if approved, no absence will be marked for that day.

* We recognize that some individuals in our community observe Passover. If a student will be observing Passover and out on Thursday, April 6, please let your Campus Head know in advance, and no absence will be marked for that day. If completing homework will be a challenge due to the holiday, teachers will grant exemptions or extensions as necessary.

In planning the 2022-2023 academic calendar, we navigated many considerations in order to build a calendar that works for our community. We appreciate that individuals in our community may observe additional religious holidays, and we respect decisions that may also require a planned absence and/or special consideration. Windward will be allowing those in that situation to take a religious observance day, and they should email the HR inbox for approval.

* We recognize that some individuals in our community observe Passover. If you will be observing Passover on Thursday, April 6, please email the HR inbox for approval to use a religious observance day.
