April 22

Dear Gull Lake Families and Staff,

The day has finally arrived, and many of you will be attending the opening performance by our GLMS and GLHS Bands! For those of you who have been trying to decide, the tickets are going fast, so be sure to claim your seat by clicking on the Gala Opening pop up on our district website. Once you are there, a whole set of resources will appear that will provide access to the online box office ticketing link and program schedule flyer.

Additionally, you will be able to scroll and click on information about our Fine Arts student performers and staff, Fine Arts curriculum and a list of our valued community partners who provide both in-person and virtual Fine Arts applications to our students. You will also see a rendering of the exterior evening image of the GL Center for the Fine Arts once the art design and landscaping is completed. We are grateful to have a supportive community that understands the importance of providing students with a dedicated teaching and learning space. When you see and hear our students perform this weekend it will become even more clear how valuable your investment is to them.

For our community members who are not able to attend in-person, we are providing a professional video and sound recording of each performance and will be uploading embedded links to our district website so that you can witness this special event! These links will be posted at the start of next week and will be provide direct access to the event of your choice on our new dedicated YouTube channel for the Gull Lake Center for the Fine Arts.

Here is the link to many more GLCS Good Things.

Go Gull Lake Fine Arts students, staff, and community! Welcome to your new space at the Gull Lake Center for the Fine Arts!

Have a wonderful weekend,
