Staffing update: filling vacancies continues to be an issue and we are struggling to meet the increase needs of our students. Program update: wrapping up the 2021-22 school year and have been planning for graduation and summer programming. We will send out the invites and graduation dates.
- Mr. David Martin, Director of Technology Services, reported that we continue to experience delays with receiving computers orders. They are out of stock and on back order and we are experiencing shipping issues. Discussed our retention policy and the suggested length of time to keep electronic files. Emails are becoming a hot topic again. Digital documents have increased and are large files. We are recommending 3 years for retention. CAIU offers a consortium model for an email archiver system. In addition, we are looking at a consortium model for a network monitor compliance system.
- Mrs. Maria Hoover, Director of Educational Services, reported on the upcoming Learning and Growing Summit on June 21, 2022. Mrs. Hoover shared the Regional Media and Design Competition results and the winners of the virtual K'Nex STEM Challenge where students designed a transportation system. - Dr. Thomas Calvecchio, Assistant Executive Director, shared information that was sent out across the state about the winners of the 2022 Prevent Suicide PA PSA Contest for Youth Suicide Prevention contest. CAIU Mental Health Program students won first prize. Shannon Wonders, an Educational Consultant with the Capital Area Intermediate Unit, is on a media tour, talking about Autism Acceptance Month and the CAIU. Shannon was on last Thursday's Smart Talk podcast, as well as yesterday, on Good Day PA. May is Mental Health Awareness Month. At CAIU, we will be sending periodic information to CAIU staff with facts, lesson plans, and articles to raise awareness. In addition, all are invited to wear a green ribbon to show support. Green Apple Podcast: We are scheduled to record our first three podcasts tomorrow. First three topics include: Our why, Stress management in the world of education, Summer Routines and things to do in the Capital Area this summer (for kids).
- Dr. Andria Saia, Executive Director, took a moment to share her gratitude for her Executive Assistant and Board Secretary in celebration of Administrative Professionals Day. She highlighted the All In! newsletter and gave a shout out to Lauren Gross, our new Marketing and Communication Specialist, for the new flip design for viewing the newsletter. The main article is on Autism Acceptance month written by Kelly Custer. In addition, she highlighted the Noteworthy article on Occupational Therapist month and the new waiting area that will be designed specifically for OT parents and kids to include fun sensory and open play activities. A CAIU and CAOLA social media report was included in the newsletter. Social media has become an important and effective way for us to communicate. The last page includes information regarding Dolly Parton's Imagination Library. In addition, please take a look at the appreciation letter under information items regarding our Rapid Response Team. The CAIU is currently undergoing major construction on our conference and lobby spaces. In the upcoming months, work will begin on our middle lobby and Board room affecting our June and July Board meetings. We plan to change the location of our June Board meeting to the Capital Area Learning Center. In addition, since the CAIU Board Reorganization meeting is now held in June, we are proposing to cancel our July meeting.

- Mr. Daren Moran, Director of Business & Operations, provided a building update on Len Kapp's behalf. Len has been very busy working on several CAIU construction projects. Budget update: The business team is knee deep in prepping for the 2022-23 budget process.
