Dress Code

The Ashland School Board recognizes that student individual dress is primarily a parental/guardian responsibility that should reflect concern for the health and safety of students, staff and others. When the dress of an individual constitutes a health problem, is unsuitable for school wear, is a danger to any person, or causes substantial and material disturbance, the Principal shall take appropriate action to correct the situation.

Annually, general dress code guidelines will be published in the Student Handbook and distributed to families. Final determination of what is acceptable will be made by the Principal.

Students who violate this policy will be given an opportunity to correct the situation by either changing the clothing, removing the clothing (if appropriate), wearing it inside-out, or other means as determined by the Principal or designee, so the student is in compliance with school dress code guidelines. The student will not be allowed to return to class until the issue is resolved. When an infraction occurs, the parent/guardian will be contacted. Students who repeatedly violate the dress code guidelines may result in additional disciplinary consequences including up to out-of-school suspension.
