DAVIS SCHOOL DISTRICT APPOINTS OFFICE OF EQUAL OPPORTUNITY DIRECTOR

FARMINGTON — Davis School District is proud to appoint Kenneth Auld as the Office of Equal Opportunity Director.

“This is my dream job,” Auld said.

Auld brings with him more than 15 years of educational experience to Davis School District. Prior to his time in education, he worked for more than a decade in juvenile corrections.

“I am extremely excited to be working with the team that has been assembled at the district. I am very passionate about social justice and working to continue to help establish equity for all students. That’s why I wanted to be in this position because it affords me the opportunity to make a difference,” Auld said.

Auld holds two master’s degrees in Social Work and Education.

Auld currently works as a human resources administrator in Jordan School District, where he spearheaded cultural awareness training. He also helped break hiring barriers allowing more teachers of color to be recruited and reflect district demographics.

Auld has extensive experience as a teacher and school administrator in both Logan City School District and Granite School District. He also received the Citizenship Award from Unified Police Department for his work with students involved in gangs.

“Mr. Auld has an extensive work history of greatness in working with special populations and has made a significant difference for good, everywhere he has been,” Davis School District Superintendent Reid Newey said. “He will be outstanding in this new role.”

Auld will begin his position in the Davis School District on April 25.

One-on-one media interviews will be available by request in the weeks following.
