Paving the P.A.T.H. to a brighter tomorrow!

The P.A.T.H. is a dynamic partnership between the Edison public school system and University Behavioral Healthcare (UBHC), a division of Rutgers University.

The primary objective of the program is to help assure children and adolescents will obtain needed assistance in an accessible location. We provide a range of free and confidential mental health services to students and their families attending the elementary, middle, and high schools.

There is widespread agreement that when children feel healthy and safe, their academic performance improves.
