Dr. Cutaia-Leonard expanded on several items from her report to the board, including preparedness for Ebola. Schools are taking inventory of PPE (Personal Protective Equipment), and the district will work with our medical director and our nurses on a response plan. We will take guidance from our health director, she said, but ultimately it falls to the Superintendent to make decisions regarding children in district who may contract Ebola. She will also join the LEPC (Local Emergency Planning Committee), which meets quarterly.

Also, professional learning for teachers is scheduled for tomorrow, including training in positive behavior support, Bloomboard, technology training, school improvement planning, targeted literacy, and early learning development standards at the preschool, to name a few topics.

Finally, she expressed gratitude for the welcome reception on Sunday, thanking those who attended and board members who planned the event. It was heartwarming, she said, and she enjoyed meeting all the guests.

Ms. Morgan asked for numbers of blocked/unblocked websites this month.

Dr. Cutaia-Leonard said she would get those to her.
