

- What ahha can do for you
  - We are ahha Tulsa, our mission is to “keep Tulsa creative.”
    - Creativity helps build capacity for empathy
    - Creativity contributes to forming lifelong learners
  - For schools we have a few programs
    - Any Given Child Any Given Child-Tulsa provides equity and access in arts education for every K-8 student who attends Tulsa Public Schools.
    - Artists in the Schools (AIS) serves to provide students with high-quality experiences in the arts and humanities that inspire their creativity and develop empathy.
      - Each site has a yearly amount set aside for this program
      - See offerings and book offerings here
      - Let us know if you have questions or need help!

        - jwann@ahhatulsa.org
    - We help with After Op, Tulsa Debate League, Hire Up, and Ready, Set, Summer, among other things...
- What ahha is asking of you and your families
  - We have contact with students, teachers, and administrators across TPS and other districts. We need your help connecting with families at your sites. As we build the Artists in the Schools program for 2022-2023, we want to make sure that the program is meaningful and aligns with Tulsa’s diverse communities.
  - We will send along a survey and we’d be very appreciative for any help you could give us. We’d love your help getting this survey to families.
  - What do families want the arts to do for their students?
  - What artistic skills do families want their students to graduate from your sites with?
  - What artistic knowledge do families want their students to graduate from your sites with?
  - What kinds of art do families want their students to experience?
  - What do families know about Any Given Child?
  - What do families know about Artists in the Schools?
  - What do families know about ahha?
- Questions, comments, reflections for us?
