1. Describe the classroom conditions that best facilitate student learning and the strategies you would use to assure maximum learning for all students.

An engaging student centered classroom is the best in my experience to facilitate student learning and to maximize the learning for all students. One thing I try to always do in my classroom is make sure that my students feel involved in their own learning process. I want them to be interacting with the material we are learning about and engaging with their peers so that our entire classroom is moving in the same direction as we are all learning together.

2. In what ways are you qualified to address the issue of diversity as a part of your instructional program?

As a teacher at Collins Hill High School for the past 4 years I have taught nothing but diverse classrooms every year. I have found great success teaching students from every background imaginable and I try to make every student feel like their culture is important to our classroom environment.

3. From your point of view, how important is technology in education? What technology-related skills would you integrate into your curriculum?

Technology is extremely important in education. In today's world students are going to be asked to use technology in almost every aspect of their life once they leave high school. Therefore I believe it's an important part for us as teachers to include technology in our classroom to help train our students and prepare them for the world today.
