

Quitting Tobacco with Quit for Life[®]

Helping You Quit Tobacco for Good

Quitting tobacco is like learning to ride a bike. Nobody does it perfectly the first time, and it's easier with someone there to help you. Many people try to quit several times before they finally succeed.

What's "Quit For Life," and how does it work?

The Quit For Life[®] Program, brought to you by Optum[®] and the American Cancer Society, is a six-month program that consists of phone-based, one-on-one treatment sessions with a professional Quit Coach[®]. During the initial call, which typically takes 25 to 30 minutes, your Quit Coach will review your tobacco-use history and help you develop a personalized quit plan.

If you're not quite ready to quit, your Quit Coach will work with you to get closer to making that decision. You can always call Quit For Life's toll-free number at (866) QUIT-4-LIFE (784-8454) for additional support between your scheduled calls. A coach is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

When you enroll in the Quit For Life[®] program, you'll receive:

- One-on-one, phone-based sessions scheduled at your convenience, usually taking 10 to 20 minutes.
- Unlimited toll-free telephone access to Quit Coaches while you're in the program.
- Membership to Web Coach, where you can build your own Quit Plan, track your progress, and interact with other participants and Quit Coaches.
- A Quit Kit of materials designed to help you stay on track.
- A Quit Coach is available to serve your needs 24 hours a day, 7 days a week.

What if I start using tobacco again while I'm in Quit For Life?

The Quit For Life Quit Coaches are available by phone whenever you need them. Just as they helped you quit initially, they are there to help you get back on track if you start using tobacco again.

Who is eligible for Quit for Life?

The Quit For Life program is offered to most PacificSource members with medical coverage. There is no charge to participate, and PacificSource covers unlimited quit attempts.
