

Headteacher update

Welcome back to the third and final term of this academic year. We have a busy and exciting term ahead, including the Jubilee celebration. Our older pupils will shortly begin their external examinations and are working hard in readiness for them. We have added an extra layer of external counselling for pupils who wish to engage to work through the nerves, stress and anxieties of the examinations ahead. A huge thank you to our whole cluster of schools for bringing together over 200 pupils for two days of scientific exploitation here at Nantgwyn and Techniquest, the children (and staff) had a fabulous time, true scientists in the making.

On Monday we will take a further step to post Covid normality, with removal of the need for Nant pupils and staff to wear face coverings in communal areas. We will also move back to 'in person' assembly. We will still ensure good ventilation and encourage regular hand washing and where possible encourage as much outdoor learning where possible. Covid isolation processes currently remain unchanged and additional guidance for pupils who may contract Covid who will be undertaking exams will update shortly.

As you will have seen from the letter sent on Thursday, Fixed Penalty Notice (FPNs) will also be reintroduced from Monday. These notices and fines can be issued for a variety of reasons including unauthorised absence, lateness and failure to cooperate with school to improve attendance. The best place for pupils to be is in school ensuring that they develop into the brilliant young people they should. All day, everyday really does matter.

Just a quick reminder that our second PTA car boot sale is happening this Sunday from 9.00 to 11.00 am, further details can be found on our school facebook page. Ysgol Nantgwyn - Home | Facebook

A small reminder that pupils are not allowed to wear hoodies or coats while in lessons. While we wait for summer sunshine to appear they will still need to wear a base layer or bring an extra school jumper, cardigan or blazer on cooler days, as windows remain open for ventilation purposes at key points in lessons. Many thanks for your support with this.

Have a great weekend

Yours, as always

Kirsty Retallick

Head of School update

Welcome back and a massive welcome to our April pre-nursery starters and their parents. No sooner than we have finished one term, the next has already started and I can't believe we are already two weeks in. Reminder for all that this is a short term and it concludes in just three weeks, on Friday 27th May 2022, please note this is an INSET day for staff training and no pupils will be on site.

This weekend, Sunday 8th May 2022, we see our second Ysgol Nantgwyn Car Boot Sale. It will be held in the Gwyn car park, for more information please visit our social media pages. If the first one is anything to go by, it will be another fantastic event, so a big thank you in advance to our PTA team for their work in setting up and running this event.

The past two week the weather has been our friend, at points it has been lovely to feel the sun warm the skin. With this in mind please just keep an eye on the forecast and if the temperature rises you may want to think about the application of sun cream first thing in the morning. Staff at Ysgol Nantgwyn will look to take advantage of the weather and posibile take the classroom outside so as to support learning and the experiences our pupils have. Also, we encourage pupils to bring water bottles to school to ensure they stay hydrated, as a drop in hydration will impact concentration levels.

The lovely weather has also brought the start of the cricket season. Mrs Holmes (Deputy head of faculty: Life) has been busy speaking with various external providers and we were lucky enough to have a cricket Wales coach come in and deliver a taster session to some pupils in lower school. So a big thank you to the faculty of life for the second newsletter running.

Phonics, literacy and numeracy skills remain the main focus of each morning - the progress we are seeing is really pleasing. Together (home and school) we are doing a fantastic job in developing the reading skills of our pupils, but it is not done...I am still requesting that all parents read for a minimum of 20/30 minutes each night to support the excellent work pupils are doing in school. If you have any concerns, please contact a member of the lower school team and we will pick it up with the class teacher.

The audiology team has been doing a fantastic job in playing catch-up following the pandemic. Last Friday it was the turn of Year 1 to have their hearing tested. If there are any concerns following the testing then the audiology team will be in direct contact with as a family.

Polite reminder, while not ideal and I strongly advise against removing pupils from school during term time, please let us know if you are thinking or doing this. Families that do not inform us waste the time of staff who are trying to locate or follow up absences daily. We want to work with families, but we need you to communicate absence for whatever reason with us either in advance or on the morning in question.

I do not need to tell you the importance of having good attendance, but, in order for a child to reach their full potential they should maintain an attendance above 95% throughout their educational journey (not just Yr11), so you son/daughter's journey has already begun and they need to be in school.

Finally, to all families, I hope you have a fantastic weekend and we will see you on Monday.

Kind regards,

J Davies

Attendance

Congratulations to each of the pupils in the table below that have achieved 100% attendance for the last week (Thursday - Thursday). We have also launched one of our attendance initiatives where pupils receive a certificate via ParentMail for 100% attendance each week - try and collect them all!

At the end of the half term, all pupils that have 100% attendance for the half term are invited to our attendance celebration! Please keep up the fantastic efforts and attend, as attendance at school is crucial for academic success!
