

The Board of Trustees adopted a revised 2017-2018 school calendar during their board work session yesterday.

The revision occurred because the District had not reached a contract settlement with the Pocatello Education Association, who represents our teachers, prior to the beginning of the school year. A negotiated agreement was reached September 1st which added two instructional days to the school year. This restores instructional days lost during the recession.

The calendar committee met on September 6th and made the following recommendation to the 2017-2018 school calendar, which was adopted by the board:

- Monday, November 20 and Tuesday, November 21 were changed from holidays to regular school days.
- The Thanksgiving holiday was changed to Wednesday, November 22nd through Friday, November 24th.

The changes made to the calendar adds the two student instructional days back into the calendar as agreed on by the Pocatello Education Association and the District.

The revised school calendar has been posted to the District's Website and is attached.
