First Day of School

POCATELLO – The Pocatello/Chubbuck School District will welcome back students for their first day of school on Wednesday, August 23, 2017.

We ask people to be extra careful while they drive through neighborhoods and especially around schools as children walk to and from school. A safe, supportive, caring and respectful environment is critical to student learning and our students need the communities' assistance to ensure a great start!

Members of the media are invited to visit schools tomorrow as students return. As always, please check in at the office and protect student privacy by not photographing students without parent consent.

Wilcox Elementary Principal, Brenda Miner, invited community professionals including fire and police personnel and Idaho State University athletes to help welcome Wilcox students back to school tomorrow 7:40 a.m.
