

Bus drivers enhance skills by participating in a challenging obstacle driving course, classroom instruction regarding teamwork and maintaining a positive environment on the school bus, and on-line emergency medication training. The eight hour update is mandated by the state and provides valuable information to drivers who transport the systems most precious resource.

School Bus driver William Allison boards a bus at training

School Bus drivers take a Safety exam

Health Service director Patty Burton, RN instructs drivers about Health Safety

Bus Drivers review Medication Safety tips

(L-R) Bus driver Dawn Brown with Tonya Parnell

Bus monitors

Bus drivers do emergency medical on-line training

Bus drivers do emergency medical on-line training

Bus Driver Mitchell Greogry shared his tech skills with Justin Horton

Bus Driver Randy Foster takes an on-line test

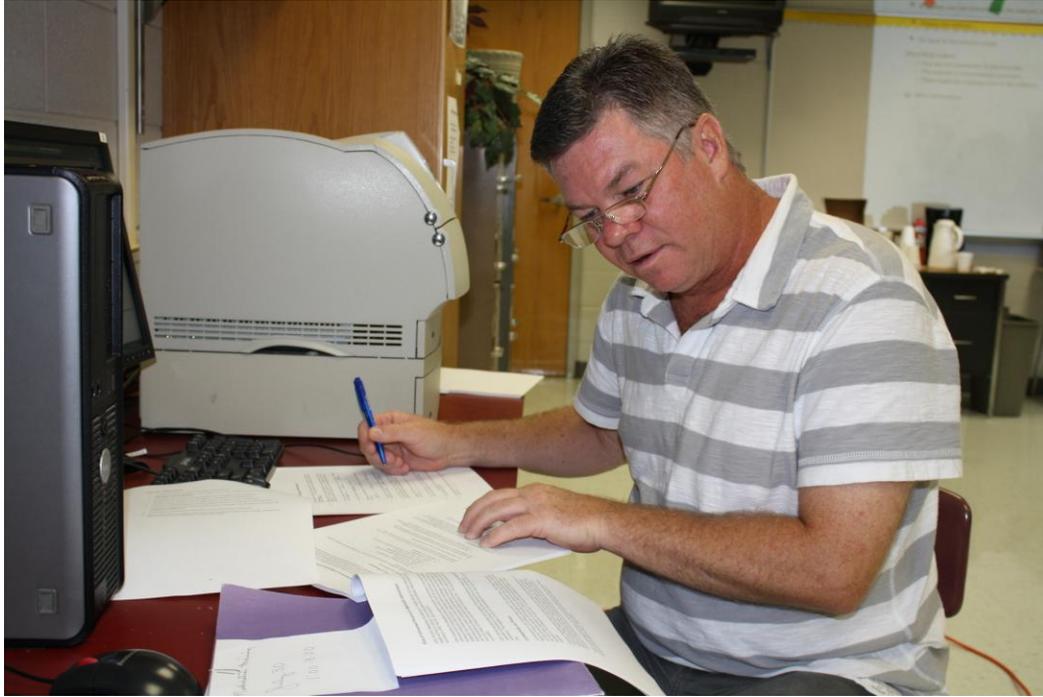

Johnny Young instructs other bus drivers

Lonnie McGinnis and Lisa Meredith taking the online emergency test

Patty Burton hands out information to bus driver Steve Denney

Mike Cooksey

TD Philip Burton talks with bus monitors

Drivers boarding the bus to get ready for the road test

(L-R) Gerald Dodson shared information with bus monitors Joetta Davis and her daughter Amber Davis, who assist students on the Jabez bus Route

Bus monitor Deborah Kennedy and bus driver Don Kennedy

(L-R) Blaine Jones, Lee Winchester, and Ralph Jones

(L-R) Larry Lefevers and Don Lair

Lisa Meredith works on online emergency medication training

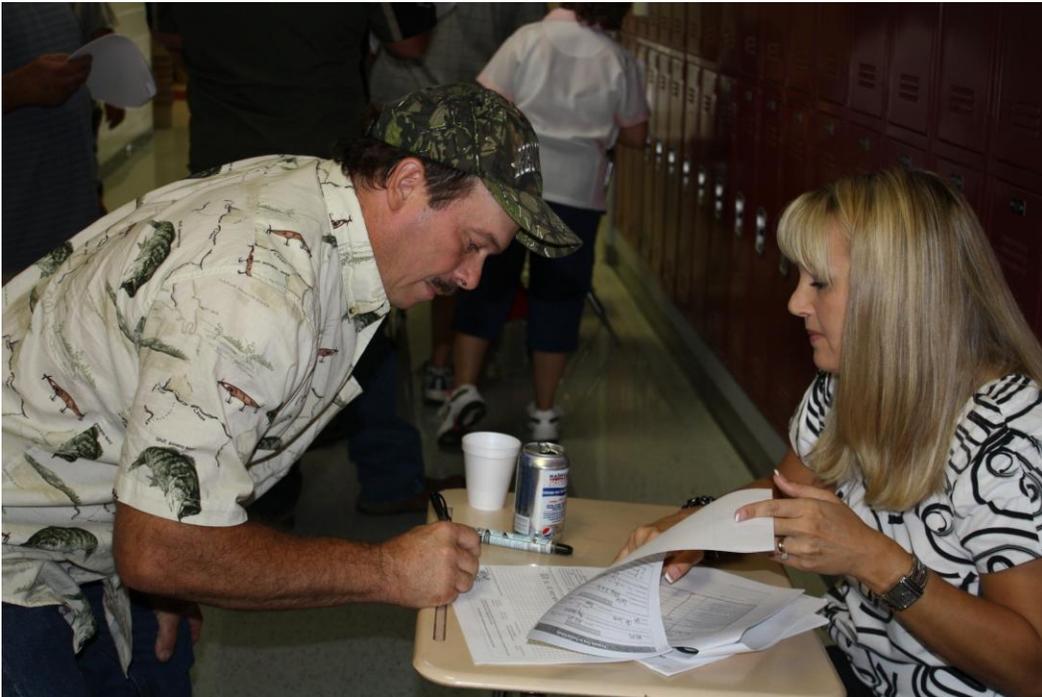

Bus monitors along with new driver Mike Cooksey listen to Transportation Director Philip Burton during classroom training

Transportation Director Philip Burton shared a break out presentation with bus monitors

Nurse Amy Edwards with (Front-back) Paula Koger, Joann Gregory, Barry Gregogy, and Gary Smith

Joey Gregory signs off on medication training with health department nurse Tonya Parnell who works at Walker

Ronnie Turner checks off skills with WC School Health Coordinator Patty Burton

Jenice Turner practicing how to use an EpiPen on a child

Patty Burton showing Jenice Turner how to use an EpiPen

Troy Neal reviews skills with Amy Edwards

