

DISTRICT ATTENDANCE AREAS

School Registration

Registrations will be accepted at any time during the current school year or beginning in the first week of October for the following year. Students are registered for the current school year on a space-available basis.

Eligible students shall be enrolled in their resident attendance area school in the order their registrations are received. The number of students registered for either the current school year or the next school year may not exceed class size guideline limits. If space is not available at the resident attendance area school, Mead School District will assign and transport (shuttle) students to the nearest Mead school that can accommodate the student's placement.

Waitlist Procedure

Students registering for the current school year or the next school year shall be placed on a waitlist, in order of the registration date, if the class size limit in their grade level has been met.

Even though a student's placement on the waitlist is determined by the date and time of registration, Mead School District reserves the right to use discretion in placing students above others on the waitlist in emergency situations.

Each school will have only one waitlist that is maintained to accommodate students who are either shuttled to other Mead schools or are residents of Mead who attend schools outside of the district.

If space becomes available in the resident attendance area school, the school office will notify families on the waitlist in order of date and time of their initial registration.

Parents may either accept or decline the available space. If the parents decline the available space offer, their child will remain on the waitlist in the same order, unless the parents request that their child be removed from the waitlist.

Any available space for the coming school year will be offered to students on the current year's waitlist in order of their registration date and time.

If there are no available spaces, the waitlist will roll over to the next school year and new registrants will be added to the waitlist in order of their registration date and time.
