

Fall Sports Round-Up

Sports teams at both Alameda High School and Encinal High School have had some remarkable achievements this fall, and some are now competing in championships. These are great games to watch, and we encourage the community to attend to support the home teams!

Alameda High School

The Hornets' Women's Golf Team is the undefeated West Alameda County Conference (WACC) Champion for the 12th season in a row and came in 7th in the North Coast Section (NCS) championships. Special congratulations to senior Lauren Tan for winning the NCS Golf Scholarship!

The varsity football team won the WACC League Championship. The Hornets will host the first round of the NCS games tonight for the first time in over a decade. Their game against Miramonte starts at 7 pm at Thompson Field.

Women's Water Polo is also the undefeated WACC champion and the top seed in the NCS. They play Concord tomorrow at 2 pm at the Soda Aquatic Center in Moraga. Meanwhile, Men's Water Polo won their 1st round NCS game last night and now move on to the quarterfinals on Saturday. That game will be played at 2 pm at Contra Costa College.

The Women's Tennis team will compete in WACC championships today and tomorrow. The Cross Country team competes in the WACC championships tomorrow (11/3) at 1 pm at Hayward High School; the men are in 1st place, and the women are in 2nd place.

The Women's Volleyball team earned a home match in the NCS playoffs and won the first NCS playoff game (for the first time in AHS history!) before falling to Bishop O'Dowd in the next game.

Encinal High School

The EJSHS Women's Water Polo team placed second in WACC and are the second seed in the NCS. They play Terra Linda tomorrow (11/3) at Acalanes High School.

Encinal's Women's Tennis team won first place in the WACC Shoreline Division and go on now to the NCS Playoffs.

The Jets football team won third place in the WACC and are 8th seed in NCS. The Jets will host Petaluma High School tomorrow night (11/3) at 7 pm.

The school's Cross Country team will compete in the WACC championships at Hayward High School tomorrow (11/3) at 1:00 pm. And the Women's Volleyball team won the WACC Shoreline League Championship, which earned them a home match in the first round of the NCS playoffs (although they lost to San Marin).

This is a super-exciting time of year for sports...Go Jets! And Go Hornets!
