What is the Wheeler Employee Assistance Program (EAP)?

At some point, most of us experience challenges that affect the quality of our lives at home and at work. The Wheeler EAP is a confidential counseling program that provides professional help to employees and their family members for personal, family or workplace problems. By dealing with issues early on, you can often prevent them from becoming more serious.

What kind of help is available?

Call the EAP for any sort of personal or work-related concerns. The EAP offers in-person support, assessment, brief solution-focused counseling, and sometimes a referral to an appropriate resource if on-going, or more specialized services are needed. The goal is to help you resolve your concerns. The EAP will follow-up to ensure that your concerns have been resolved and that you are satisfied.

What happens when I call?

When you call the EAP, you will speak with our EAP staff and a confidential appointment will be made to meet in-person with a professional counselor to discuss your concerns at a location and time that is convenient to you. After you meet with the EAP Counselor, a plan of action will be developed together. This may include several more sessions with the counselor, or referring you for ongoing counseling, a support group or community resource depending on what you need.

What is the cost to utilize EAP services?

The EAP is a company benefit with a predetermined number of sessions at no cost to you. When further help is needed, Wheeler EAP will make every effort to direct you to an appropriate resource within your community for information and assistance on a wide range of topics.

What about Wheeler EAP staff credentials?

All of our counselors are licensed, certified and hold master's or Ph.D. degrees. They are professionals trained to help people deal with a wide spectrum of personal issues.

How is confidentiality ensured?

Confidentiality is ensured in the following ways:

- The names of the employees or family members using the EAP are not provided to your employer.
- All records are kept in a secure area at Wheeler Clinic and DO NOT become part of an employee's medical or personnel records.
- No information is ever released without the client's written consent, unless legal guidelines mandate otherwise.
