INCLEMENT WEATHER

Sometimes inclement weather forces school to be cancelled, delayed, or children to be sent home early. Weather closings or delays will be carried on local radio and television stations, on Troy Local Cable Access Channel 5, on Troy City Schools Channel 21, and on the Troy City Schools website at www.troy.k12.oh.us Please give you child prior instructions on where they should go and what they should do if school is delayed or closed. Outdoor recess will be held during the school day if the weather is permissible. As a rule, students will go outside unless the temperature falls below 20 deg. F. Wind chill will be considered in making the decision to go outside or remain indoors for recess. Please dress your children appropriately for the weather.

ClassDojo

Welcome to the ClassDojo Community – A community of teachers, parents, and students who are passionate about making a positive impact in classrooms, schools, and communities around the world.

Focus on creating a positive culture

Classrooms are full of positivity! Teachers use regular, positive feedback to encourage students and give them recognition for their efforts and progress.

Foster a student-driven classroom

Students decide on class values together, discussing skills they believe are the most important to their classroom community, and encouraging them through ClassDojo. Students take ownership of their learning by creating digital portfolios that showcase their growth throughout the school year. They love posting their work for their parents to see!

Keep your door open to families

Teachers keep parents in the loop! From photos of students working together to videos of class projects. Teachers and parents are on the same team, collaborating on how they can help students thrive both in and out of the classroom.

Collaborate with others

Classrooms work together as part of the school community to encourage shared school values and share school-wide moments home.

Teachers collaborate with others, helping teachers in their school and in other schools create amazing classrooms, too.

What is a Class Story?

Class story is a way for a teacher to share photos, videos, and announcements about a class with all parents connected to that class. It is used to send home permission slips, share photos of group projects, post videos of class presentations, and more! Only the teachers of a particular class and the parents connected to that class can see class story.

What is school story?

It is a way for all teachers in the school to collectively share a story of the school with all parents. Teachers share information, pictures, and videos about school events, assemblies, spirit weeks, student achievements, and more. School story will show up on your class Story.

Attendance # 937-335-4881

If you do not call your child in or send a letter the next day, your student's absence will be unexcused.
